TWO LIVES SACRIFICED IN TRAFFIC

Heat's Death Toll 168; Scattered Rains Fall

Probe of Tear Gas Bomb Attack Upon Strikers Promised

Hurling of tear gas bombs which spread terror among Mexican women, children and their men at two strike meetings in Orange county was under investigation today by the district attorney's office.

It is a felony for a private citizen to possess or throw a tear gas bomb unless he has special permission.

The general strike situation was calmer today. Pickers were working, guarded by a small army of deputies. No reports of violence had been made. On Tuesday night a bomb was hurled into a crowded meeting in the Salvador market on North Los Angeles street, Anaheim. Strikers, their wives and children, left the place in confusion. Lucas Lucio, Mexican consular representative here, said today a small boy was burned by the bomb's explosion.

A few moments later another bomb was thrown at a window of the La Paloma pool hall in El Modena. Lucio said the bomb hit the window sash and failed to go inside the room.

Report to Police

District Attorney W. F. Menton said today he will investigate these reports.

Sheriff Logan Jackson said no report of the occurrences had come to his office except through the newspapers. No one has asked the sheriff to make an investigation, he said.

The Anaheim bombing was reported to the police station there by Abdalla "Salvador" Anton, owner of the store. Anton said nothing about an injury to anyone, the police station reported today. So far as he knows, no one was injured.

Bomb Picked Up

Lucio yesterday had in his possession what he said were the two exploded bombs. He said he will turn them over to Ricardo Hill, Mexican consul at Los Angeles.

He spent yesterday investigating the occurrences. The Anaheim bomb, he said, was thrown at about 9 p. m. The exploded bomb was given to Lucio by Clemente Hernandez, who said he picked it up.

Reports to Lucio said a black car drove slowly past the store several times and then stopped. A man in dark glasses was seen to get out of the car, walk to the store door and throw the bomb, Lucio said.

Gets Car Number

His report was that the bomb exploded beneath the chair in which a boy was seated and that the boy's leg was injured.

Lucio said the license number of the car had been reported to him. The same car was seen at El

GUNMEN SLAY LEGISLATOR

Assassination Laid On Effort To Legalize Race Book Betting

CHICAGO, (AP)—State Rep. John M. Bolton, 29, was assassinated early today in typical gangland style—a shotgun blast ripped through his head after he failed to distance pursuers in a mile-a-minute automobile chase through west side streets.

Officials, admittedly at loss for a definite motive, pondered a theory his efforts to legalize handbook betting here had brought swift underworld retaliation, and began a new investigation into Chicago gambling.

Slain in Auto

Representative from the second Chicago district since 1930 and renominated in the April primary election, Bolton died at the wheel of his car, wrecked when it careened into a trolley post, as his killers fled after firing the fatal charge at close quarters.

The killers, whose number was undetermined, worked in the style made familiar in the gang days of prohibition.

Backed Betting Bill

Bolton was a leader of the Chicago block in the state legislature and author of a bill at the last session which would have enabled the city to license handbook betting. The bill was approved by both houses but was stopped short of enactment by Governor Horner's veto.

Many operators of so-called wildcat handbooks were reported to have feared the law in the belief that limitation of the number of licenses issued would have resulted in a "freeze out" of their business.

CHILDREN USED BY GAMBLERS

Reports that small Mexican children are being used as agents for an out-of-town group of punchboard promoters were being investigated by police today.

Gill Mengoza, 1238 West Cubbon street, reported to the station last night several local Mexican school children were being employed to take punchboards and collect money for chances on "prizes of dishes and clocks."

The prizes, he said, had not been given, even when buyers punched a "lucky number." The agents are very insistent on collecting proceeds every day, he said.

Officers today were to question several children said to have been given boards, to determine who their employers are.

British Cut Fleet In Mediterranean

LONDON, (AP)—The heavy British fleet concentration in the Mediterranean will be reduced almost immediately, authoritative sources declared today.

Withdrawal of some of the naval units follows relaxation of tension since Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, it was reported, together with the League of Nations decision to suspend sanctions next week.

Mexican Slays Eight and Self

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind. (AP)—Celestino Gonzales, Mexican employed at the Inland Steel company, today apparently killed his wife and six children with an axe, shot and killed a roomer at their home, Jose Aro, and then committed suicide.

What Price This Citrus Strike?

Outbreaks of violence have brought the Orange county citrus strike dramatically to the attention of every citizen in the community. Most of them are not directly affected; but all will have a share in paying the bill.

What will the strike cost in dollars and cents? What will it cost in human suffering, misunderstanding and animosity?

The Journal today obtained figures, actual and estimated to date, which give a striking idea of the rapidly mounting costs. In a number of instances neither amounts nor estimates could be obtained, and in other instances they were not available for obvious reasons. The figures, which speak for themselves, follow:

TAXPAYERS' BILL

Salaries of special deputies	$ 4,621.06
Auto expense, special deputies	26.42

MURPHY ENDS ISLAND JOB

U. S. Philippines Chief To Seek Michigan Governorship

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Frank Murphy of Detroit submitted to President Roosevelt today his resignation as high commissioner to the Philippine islands.

Murphy announced his action to newsmen as he left the White House. He said the resignation was to be effective at the pleasure of the President, but indicated that it was submitted to clear the way for him to make the race as Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan.

The former Detroit mayor was appointed governor general of the Philippines early in the Roosevelt administration after Homer S. Cummings, who had been slated for the post, was made attorney general. Cummings was given the justice department cabinet position after Senator Walsh of Montana, who had been selected for the attorney generalship, died on the eve of Mr. Roosevelt's inauguration.

The President in a letter of reply said he would hold Murphy's resignation in abeyance with the understanding that he would have a leave of absence of two months without pay beginning Sept. 5. This would leave final action on the resignation until after the November election and permit Murphy to resume his Philippine post if he should not be chosen governor.

DEATH TAKES FILM STAR

Thomas Meighan, noted In 'Miracle Man' Role, Succumbs

NEW YORK. (AP) — Thomas Meighan, who started out to be a doctor but who became one of America's best known stage and screen personalities, is dead.

The "Miracle Man" of the silent screen succumbed last night at his Great Neck, Long Island, home, after an illness of more than a year. He was 57 years old.

Meighan was born in Pittsburgh of well-to-do parents. He first demurred at suggestions of a college education, finally consented to study medicine at St. Mary's college at Baltimore and then spurned such a career to carve his own success as an actor.

His star, although it declined with the advent of the talkies, never eclipsed. "Peck's Bad Boy," in which he was filmed in 1934 with Jackie Cooper, was Meighan's farewell to the work he loved.

Shortly after the picture's release in January, 1935, Meighan was stricken with pneumonia and from that illness he never recovered fully.

Two weeks ago he became critically ill. His wife, the former Frances Ring, who also won fame

DESTRUCTION OF CROPS GROWING

Torrid Wave Spreading East; Misery and Want Increase

CHICAGO, (AP)—Scattered rains brought temporary relief today to a few sections in the nation blanketed by stiffling heat, but no general break was forecast in the torrid weather.

Deaths reached at least 168, and blazing destruction continued to mow crops in the fertile fields of the Middlewest. Misery, want, and despair grew in the agricultural regions.

Heat Wave Goes East

Spreading east, the heat wave involved about half of the nation, and temperatures in three figures were in prospect for most states from mid-continent to the eastern seaboard.

Rain fell spasmodically, dampening parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, while some few localized areas were drenched by downpours.

Some Wet Spots

Among the latter were Effingham, Ill., with 2.42 inches of rain; Davils Lake, N. D., freak weather spot of the nation, with 1.48 inches, and Kankakee, Ill., with .58 of an inch.

Grain trades took quick note of the rainfall. Corn fell more than three cents a bushel at the opening in Chicago, while wheat dropped fractionally.

65-Year Record Broken

New England, enveloped by the spreading heat, saw a 65-year record heat broken by electrical storms which caused an estimated $100,000 damages from fires started by lightning.

J. B. Hutson, acting AAA administrator, estimated 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 persons were directly affected by the drought.

The havoc already wrought in the nation's agricultural sections has been estimated at $300,000,000. But this was regarded by observers as an underestimate when C. A. Russell, secretary of agriculture for South Dakota, reckoned crop losses in his state alone at $140,000,000. The damage to Wyoming dry land crops was placed at $5,000,000.

Survey of States

Gov. Elmer Holt declared "the present drought is the worst in Montana's history" at a conference on the crisis at Havre. The consensus there was that only a long-time water conservation program could save the agricultural eastern part of the state from financial ruin.

Up in the important dairy state of Wisconsin, the department of

CURRY BUYS 52 ACRE RANCH

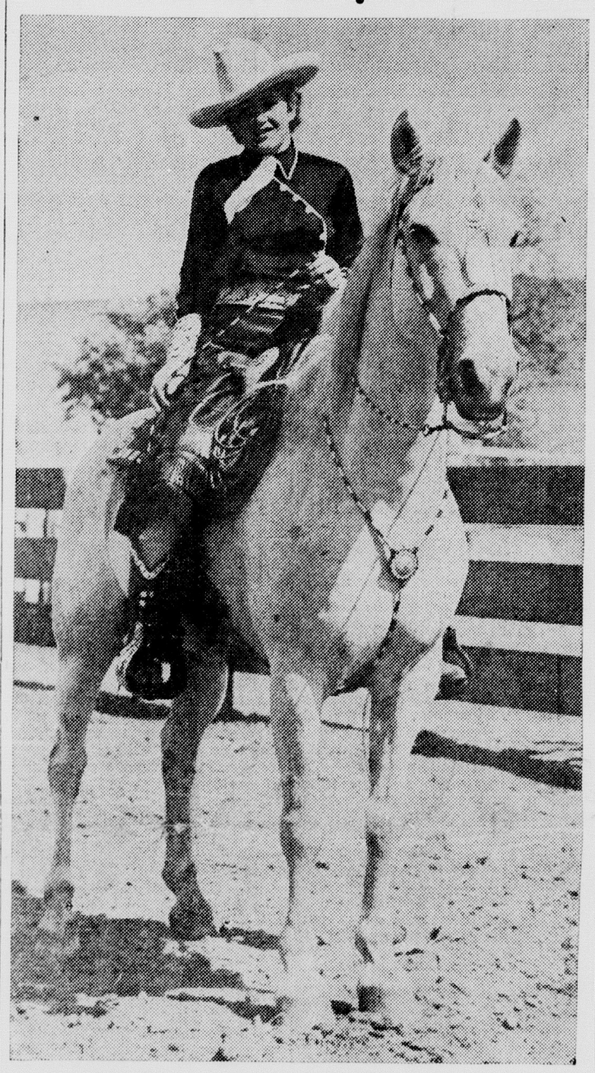

Purchase by County Welfare Director Byron Curry of a 52-acre property between Anaheim and Orange was announced today.

The purchase was made from the W. A. Dyer Orchards, Inc., for cash. The consideration, however, was not made public.

Approximately 20 acres of the property are set out to orange and walnut trees. The soil is regarded as among the best in the county.

W. A. Dyer purchased the property in 1910. A few years ago he and his family incorporated the property. Dyer lives at West Orange.

Will Tustin Girl Be Queen of Rodeo?

Miss Betty Timmons, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timmons, Tustin, hopes to ride "Eagle" to victory at the Salinas rodeo next week, winning the title of California's finest outdoor girl. She won the right to represent Orange county by displaying her horsemanship in the Fourth of July rodeo in Huntington Beach. The horse's silver-mounted trappings were loaned to Betty by Mrs. James Irvine.

SANTA ANAN IS STRUCK BY AUTO

Ronald Barrett, Laguna, Killed in Huntington Beach Crash

Killed in county traffic accidents so far this year	35
Killed in county traffic accidents same time last year	28

Traffic deaths put a sudden end to two lives in Orange county today, as one man was killed on North Main street in Santa Ana and another on the coast highway in Huntington Beach.

Robert W. Cole, 68, 705 South Sycamore street, was fatally injured at 11:15 a. m. today when he assertedly stepped into the path of an automobile in North Main street. His skull was fractured, and he died several minutes later at Santa Ana valley hospital.

Here 12 Years

Driver of the car which struck the man was Olga Gustavsen, Laguna Beach, who told police officers she was traveling slowly and that the pedestrian stepped in front of the car.

Mr. Cole, formerly livery business proprietor in Winnebago, Minn., had been a Santa Ana resident for 12 years. He retired in 1922 when he and his family moved to California.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Cole, and two daughters, Miss Mable Cole, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Lewis Rorman, Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of the Winbigler mortuary, are pending.

Head-on Crash

The other death occurred at dawn today, when an automobile driven by Ronald Barrett, Laguna Beach cafe worker, crashed head-on into another car at Huntington Beach, killing Barrett instantly. He was crushed behind the steering wheel of his car.

The other car was driven by L. W. Bevins, naval officer from San Diego. Bevins and his wife were cut and bruised, and Ned Bronner, Laguna Beach, a passenger in the Barrett car, was taken to the Huntington Beach Emergency hospital, suffering from severe cuts.

$336,000 BLAZE IN KANSAS TOWN

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—The national guard armory, including four cannon, seven trucks and 5000 rounds of ammunition, was destroyed today by a $336,000 fire that also razed the postoffice and two stores. Cause of the fire was unknown.

Capt. D. M. Ashlock of Battery D, 161st Field Artillery, set the armory damage at $275,000 and the postoffice loss was fixed at $5000.

Newport Will Vote On Sewage Bonds

Plans were launched last night in Newport Beach which will lead in the near future to a $300,000 bond election in the beach city for the building of a mammoth sewage disposal system. At a mass meeting held in the city hall with members of the city officials and chamber of commerce directors present, it was agreed to urge the city council to call the election as soon as possible.

City Engineer R. L. Patterson, basing his estimate of sewage needs of the city on probable growth in the next 10 years, explained in detail the plans for the project, and gave a detailed report on its construction.

If bonds are passed the plant will be constructed just east of the Santa Ana river near the state highway. Connection will be made with the Orange county joint outfall sewer system, Patterson said.

The matter will be proposed formally to the council at its regular meeting next Monday night.

The council a year ago voted against calling a bond election for a proposed $90,000 water system, compromising on building a five-year system financed with money from the city general fund. Reports were to the effect that provisions for a new water system might be included in the sewage disposal project.

LEWIS SNUBS FEDERATION

WASHINGTON, (AP)—After ignoring a summons from the American Federation of Labor's executive counsel, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, assured President Roosevelt today that there was a "great mass movement" in labor for his re-election.

The council meanwhile met at federation headquarters to determine whether Lewis and his allies in the present drive to organize the nation's steel workers into an industrial union should be suspended from federation membership.

The council had ordered Lewis to appear and answer charges of "dual unionism" in setting up the committee for industrial organization with 11 allied unions.

Paying no heed, Lewis talked politics with the President for 20 minutes.

William Green, president of the A. F. of L. and spokesman for its craft union leaders, acknowledged that he did not expect any of the Lewis men to show up.

DOCTORS MAKE BLOOD

CHICAGO, (AP)—Tiny glass "factories" which manufacture human blood cells artificially were in operation today on the Pacific coast. They were designed by two University of Oregon medical men, Dr. Edwin E. Osgood and Inez E. Brownlee.

Although devised as a substitute for nature's complicated setup inside the human bones, the machinery in these synthetic biological construction plants were extremely simple.

To start the "factory" going, the doctors would obtain marrow from someone's collarbone, inject it into a tube with a syringe, force a mixture of gas through the jelly and the marrow, and then place the tube in a warm water bath.

Inside the "factory," the scientists reported in the journal of the American Medical Association, the marrow cells act as they do at home—live, grow, move, kill germs and produce blood cells.

DR. CADMAN IS NEAR DEATH

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, internationally known radio preacher, lapsed into unconsciousness and delirium today. Dr. Cadman is ill of peritonitis and a ruptured appendix in Champlain Valley hospital here.

Dr. Lyman G. Barton, jr., attending surgeon, said, "We have practically abandoned hope now."

Dionne Quintuplets Have New Baby Brother Now

CALLANDER, Ont. (AP)—A son was born today to Mrs. Oliva Dionne, mother of the quintuplets.

Dr. J. E. I. Joyal officiated. He was assisted by M. Charettee, a nurse of Callender.

Both Mrs. Dionne and the boy were described by Dr. Joyal as in "exceptionally good condition." The child was born early today.

As in the case of the quintuplets, now housed in their ultra-modern private hospital, the newest Dionne baby was born in the farmhouse.

The baby weighed eight pounds. It is the 11th living child of Mr. and Mrs. Dionne. The baby was born at 3:25 a. m. but because of the secrecy that has surrounded the pre-natal care of the mother, the birth did not become known until this afternoon.

The birth of quintuplets to obscure Oliva and Elzire Dionne, May 28, 1935, catapulted them into world attention.

SCHOOL POST IS WON BY MOORE

Newport Contest Results In Displacing Way On Board

Edward I. Moore, Newport Beach confectioner, and write-in candidate for trustee of the Newport Beach elementary school district at the June 5 election, today was declared elected at the conclusion of an election contest hearing before Judge H. G. Ames in department one of the superior court. He thus defeated Charles H. Way, incumbent.

Whether voters wrote "Edward I. Moore" or "E. I. Moore," on the ballots, they intended to vote for the confectioner, Judge Ames ruled. There were 47 of the former and 75 of the latter, giving Moore a total of 122 votes, as compared with 91 for Way.

No Other Candidate

At the time of the election, however, the election board credited Moore only with 75 votes cast for "E. I. Moore." Judge Ames stated this morning that it would be unnecessary to determine the intent of other ballots on which Moore's name was written in various ways.

Moore and his attorney, B. Z. McKinney, contended that there was no other candidate in the school district who could have been confused with Moore. H. L. Sherman, wealthy Newport Beach engineer, testified that Moore was a candidate, and Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, testified that the ballots had not been tampered with.

Will Take Seat

Roland Thompson appeared as attorney for Way, replacing Deputy District Attorney H. A. McCabe, who withdrew a week ago when he found he was barred by law from entering the case.

Moore can take his seat on the board of trustees after Judge Ames signs an order directing Adkinson, county schools superintendent, to issue a certificate of lection. This probably will be next week.

Heat Kills Two In California

RIVERSIDE, (AP)—The heat of the desert which has sent the mercury up to 115 degrees in the past few days has caused two deaths near here, Coroner Ben F. White reported today.

Frank A. Bell, 48, employe of a gypsum plant at Midland, in the Palo Verde valley, died of the effects of becoming overcome while working as a riveter.

Coroner White said the other death was that of an infant son of a family enroute by automobile from Arizona to California.

James Repudiates Confession

DEADLOCK OVER DOG LICENSES

Ed Clarey today doesn't know whether to buy license tags for his three racing greyhounds or not.

Yesterday he faced a jury in the court of Justice of the Peace Donald J. Dodge at Costa Mesa, where he was charged with failing to have proper identification tags or licenses for the speedsters. The jury, composed of eight women and four men, couldn't decide the question for Clarey or the court.

After a hopeless deadlock, the final ballot stood nine to three for acquittal.

Judge Dodge ordered Clarey to appear again Friday, when a new trial date will be set.

Clarey was arrested June 26 on a complaint filed by Poundmaster Harold D. Pickering. He contended he had been told by a former district attorney and by Constable William Ponting, Newport Beach, that licenses were not necessary as long as the dogs were not allowed to run at large.

Pickering, on the witness stand, admitted that as far as he knew, the dogs always were chained. The prosecution held that the dogs must be equipped with metal tags bearing the name and address of the owner, whether running at large or kept in kennels.

KIWANIS HEARS TOASTMASTERS

A model Toastmasters meeting, patterned after programs of the world-wide club movement begun in 1924 by Ralph Smedley of Santa Ana, was presented to the Kiwanis club yesterday at its weekly meeting in the Green Cat cafe.

Sam Hurwitz was program chairman, introducting Glenn Tidball as chairman of the speakers' group. Speakers were W. F. Croddy, whose topic was "Labor;" Ted Blanding, who spoke on "War," and Ernest Wooster, whose topic was "A Jug Handle in the Mud."

Croddy's talk presented the economic problem in terms of relief and the dole, leaving the question "We got ourselves into this; now how can we get out?"

Blanding said the cost of the National Youth act, passed last year, would have paid for only five hours of the World war, classing war as the greatest present threat to civilization.

Wooster's "Jug Handle in the Mud" dealt with a glazed pottery handle found almost a mile below the ground by an oil drilling crew near Santa Ana.

Dr. Melbourne Mabee, president of the club, gave a brief report of his trip to Washington, D. C., to the international Kiwanis convention.

STATE SAYS JAMES NOT ABUSED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—State witnesses testified today that Robert S. James, Birmingham, Ala., barber, was not mistreated when he signed what the prosecution claims is a confession to killing his seventh wife, Mary, by rattlesnake bite and drowning.

Previously the defense in James' trial on murder charges, seeking to exclude the document, offered depositions from Alabama friends saying James is mentally unstable.

"He was not mistreated or molested or abused," said Chief Deputy District Attorney Robert P. Stewart, who described James as unworried and calmly smoking cigars as he lolled in a swivel chair talking to District Attorney Buron Fitts.

The strategy of the defense is to discerdit James' alleged confession to the slaying of his wife by showing he was not mentally responsible when he signed it.

Depositions taken from acquaintances of James and his relatives in Alabama were introduced yesterday.

Mrs. Laura Beans of Cottondale, Ala., said she thought James "wasn't right in the head" and that three of the accused man's relatives "was all curious" and had "no minds."

Once James shot at "old Mrs. Thompson," said Mrs. Beans.

From the musty records of the Tuscaloosa, Ala. courthouse the defense brought forth a transcript of proceedings held in 1882 concerning the sanity of Susan A. Davis, a cousin of James' grandfather.

The transcript read: "She went about in her nightgown at night like a lost soul. She nigh scared the life out of a lot of folks."

Father Held for Beating Girl

MODESTO, (AP)—John Collier, 42, fruit worker, was arrested today on an assault charge by Sheriff Grat Hogin who said Collier beat one of his daughters with a tree limb until her back bled.

Tribly Collier, 13, the daughter, and five of her brothers and sisters, ranging in age from 5 to 13 years, were placed in the detention home pending disposition of the case.

Hogin said the children related a pitiful story of being taken from their mother in Arizona and brought to California several months ago and forced to work in the harvest fields.

The sheriff said the children are undernourished and have been eating only cold gravy for breakfast and cold beans for dinner.

Hogin said he was told the girl was beaten because she gave a quart of blackberries to a friend.

MORE ABOUT STRIKE

Modena at about 9:45 p. m., when the second bomb was thrown.

Lucio said part of this bomb was picked up and turned over to him. Early Wednesday morning, he said, it was reported that a man was seen near the La Paloma pool room and that he picked up the other part of the bomb which had not been previously recovered.

The bombs, he said he was informed by police officers, are not the type used by authorities.

Was Threatened

With officers closely guarding picking crews today, no violence had been reported. Reports from La Habra, however, indicated large numbers of strikers gathering and a possibility of trouble.

Edgar F. Borchard, citrus trucking contractor, told police last night he had been threatened by strikers. He said they told him if he hauled any fruit today the trucks would be overturned.

Seek McLauchlan

Small strike meetings were held last night in Placentia, La Jolla and Anaheim. Chief of Police Gus Barnes of Placentia asked sheriff's officers yesterday to look for Charles McLauchlan, Communist candidate for congress now on trial in Fullerton on tresspassing and vagrancy charges. Barnes said McLauchlan left Fullerton for La Jolla camp when court closed yesterday, supposedly with literature to distribute.

McLauchlan, however, had not vanished.

The case of the people against McLauchlan, alleged strike agitator and avowed Communist, charged with tresspassing and vagrancy as a result of what police say is his undue interest in the citrus strike, was to be closed early this afternoon.

Young McLauchlan, Communist candidate for Congress, was arrested a week ago when he assertedly entered an orange grove and attempted to harangue working pickers in the interests of the strike. He is being tried in the Fullerton justice court.

A jury was selected by 11 o'clock and the prosecution closed its case within a few moments.

Defense Attorney Grover Johnson, of the International Labor Defense, is conducting McLauchlan's case. He is faced with a possible maximum penalty of one year in the county jail on each count, if convicted.

Three more strikers were jailed last night by California Highway patrol officers on vagrancy charges.

SPARKS LIVEN HEARING ON BUS PLAN

Councilman Joseph P. Smith spent an hour and a half today parrying barbed questions shot at him by eight attorneys.

He was on the witness stand at a hearing conducted by the state railroad commission in department three of the superior court, where the state officials sought to find out if Santa Anans favor the Santa Fe railroad application for permission to operate a bus line through this city.

Smith admitted the Santa Ana city council has adopted a resolution in favor of the company's application for a bus franchise in California. The councilman not only admitted the council had passed the resolution, but also added his own statement in favor of the plan.

Smith an Attorney

Attorneys representing the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric railroads and the Motor Transit and Pacific Greyhound bus lines shot questions at Smith and objected to his testimony. Smith smiled occasionally. He is an attorney himself.

Santa Fe seeks permission to operate point-to-point bus service within the state, to sell tickets to be used interchangeably on buses and trains, and to set fares at 1½ cents per mile.

Lawyers Clash

Jonathan Gibson, general counsel for Santa Fe, clashed sharply with Earl Bagby, Pacific Greyhound attorney, objecting to questions asked by the latter.

A. T. Smith, San Clemente city councilman, testified for a short time before the noon recess and was to resume this afternoon. Arthur Jenkins, engineer and examiner for the state railroad commission, presided at the hearing.

8 Fishing Boats Missing in Storm

BILBAO, Spain. (AP)—At least 15 fishermen perished today in one of the worst storms reported off the northern coast of Spain in 20 years.

Eleven were lost when the fishing boat Joven Republica foundered near Bermedo, and four others were swept from the deck of the fishing boat San Francisco by a huge wave.

Of 11 boats in the fishing fleet off Candas, eight were missing.

markets measured the waste of pasture land in millions.

Tennessee officials pronounced the situation "distressing." They feared corn production might be halved and tobacco yield cut one-third.

Cut Grain for Hay

"Worse daily" was the gist of comment by Illinois and Minnesota authorities.

From Hosmer, S. D., came news of "hoppers and beetles chopping off corn at the ground." Many farmers cut grain for hay.

Gov. R. L. Cochran of Nebraska appealed for government assistance in combatting the inroads of insects and drought. Prayers for an end of the crisis were offered by Catholics of that state. Agricultural agents of five south central counties expressed fear grasshoppers would strip fields.

Emergencies Increase

At Washington, 171 counties were added to the 97 designated "drought emergency counties." Government aid will be concentrated upon them. Counties in Missouri, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia were placed on the list along with new ones in the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming.

Livestock prices sank as distressed animals were shipped to markets by the trainload.

MORE ABOUT MEIGHAN

on the stage, was with him at the end. She is a sister of the actress, Blanche Ring. Besides his widow, he is survived by a brother, James Meighan, of New York

Meighan deserted the stage in 1916 for the fledgling movie industry, and shortly afterward made what probably was his greatest success, "The Miracle Man," the picture with which his name thereafter was linked. He reached his peak of popularity in 1925 and 1926, and was one of filmdom's highest paid stars with a contract reputedly calling for $10,000 per week.

STAYED HERE TWO WEEKS

Thomas Meighan, former film star who died yesterday in New York, lived in Santa Ana for two weeks in 1934.

During the filming of "Peck's Bad Boy," which Mr. Meighan made here with Jackie Cooper, he and the company were quartered at the Santa Ana hotel, while scenes were shot at Santa Ana homes.

Several parties were given by members of Santa Ana's social set for the Hollywood visitors.

BORAH URGES HIGH TARIFF ON CROPS

NAMPA, Ida., (AP)—Sen. William E. Borah, in the first speech since he announced his candidacy for a sixth term, told 1000 Idaho farmers today they cannot expect "lasting prosperity" until "the American market for farm products is protected by an adequate tariff."

"The basis of the solution for the farm problem," said the veteran Republican statesman who filed only yesterday for the Republican senatorial nomination, "is that "America belongs to the American farmer.

"During the first four months of this year there was imported 10,500,000 pounds of pork and many millions of pounds of other farm products.

"The evil lies not in the fact that these products were imported, but in the fact that they can be imported.

"There would be no imports so long as the American farmer can supply the American market."

BUREAU HITS WATER USE BY CLUBS

Referendum Shows That Farmers Object to Duck Pond Filling

Opposition to use of underground water by county gun clubs will continue to be the policy of the county Farm Bureau, officers and directors of the group decided at a meeting in Garden Grove last night. The decision was made following announcement of results of a referendum in which more than 300 voters favored such a course.

The referendum showed clearly that a huge majority of those replying to the referendum, sent out late in June, wished a continued drive by the bureau for regulation of use of water and against use of any such water by the sports clubs in the southwestern portion of the county, officials said.

Bortz Comments

"Members of the county farm bureau are overwhelmingly in favor of regulating the use of underground water, as evidenced by the referendum," L. A. Bortz, bureau president, said today. "The fact that 25 per cent of the farmers contacted replied at this time of year, when many are away on vacations, a serious strike situation exists in the county and many farmers are at the height of their business season, indicates they are keenly alive to the seriousness of the decline in water levels in the county."

Members of the water committee of the bureau, headed by J. A. Murdy, jr., of Smeltzer, are expected to confer with the county supervisors and Orange county water district officials on various questions regarding existing water ordinances and to seek action as indicated in the referendum.

No Water for Clubs

The first question submitted to farmers was "In the interests of harmony and solution of other phases of the water question, should the Farm bureau consent to plan to permit gun clubs to use the minimum of water under a county license?"

This was overwhelmingly defeated with a "No" vote of 252, while 85 favored the proposition.

"Shall the Farm bureau continue to oppose the use of any underground water by the gun clubs? was favored by an even larger majority, 264 yes and 65 no.

Tax Reduction

The third question, "Shall the Farm bureau continue to work to establish regulation of use of underground water for beneficial purposes of irrigation through county ordinances and state laws?" received 317 "yes" and 20 "no" votes by the bureau membership. In the final question, asking if voters would agree to abide by the will of the majority, 305 voted yes and 21 no.

A motion also was passed by the officers that the bureau should continue its policy of seeking reductions in county taxes.

The meetnng, to which members of farm centers and the county committeemen were invited, was held in the Woman's clubhouse at Garden Grove, with dinner served by members of the club.

Fire Fighters Encircle Blaze

BAKERSFIELD, (AP)—A force of 500 weary fire fighters today completely encircled the brush and timber blaze threatening rich grain lands in Bear and Cummings valley.

County fire officials were hopeful of holding the fire under control, but were doubtful this could be done should a strong wind spring up as it did yesterday afternoon.

ELSIE SWAMPED FOR AID

But Says She Has No Money

NEW YORK. (AP)—Elsie Janis found herself in a quandry today because charity-seekers were knocking at her door all too soon after she decided to sell her possessions and devote her life to aiding unfortunates.

The former stage star, who announced her decision in a recent letter to the Tarrytown (N. Y.) News, wrote the New York Daily News:

"Will you please help me straighten things out? I have, as I said in my letter to the Tarrytown paper which caused all the publicity that I did not seek, 'everything in the world but money.'

"That is the truth, and it breaks my heart to receive letters asking for aid I cannot give. I am getting rid of my possessions to clear my decks for action so I can start at scratch, and devote the rest of my life trying to make other people happy.

"That's the truth, pal, and I know you want the lowdown."

SCHOLAR TELLS OF CREATION

Opening a series of 10 interpretive Scripture recitals with a lecture characterized by those who heard it as the finest thing of its kind ever given in Santa Ana, Dr. Henry Hampton Halley spoke last night in the auditorium of the First Christian church.

The Chicago scholar and speaker memorizes the central thought of each book of the Bible, giving in abbreviated but unaltered form the story of the Bible, supported and authenticated with pictures and records of archaeological discoveries by recent expeditions.

"Genesis" was the theme of last night's recital, preseting the story of creation, man's fall, the flood, and God's covenant with Abraham. Slides used by the speaker were made from photographic records of expeditions of the British museum, Oxford university, Fields museum and University museum of Philadelphia, showing relics of past ages from the cradle of civilization in the Tigris and Euphrates valleys.

The meetings are undenominational, open to every resident of the community. The recital begins at 7:30 o'clock each evening except Saturdays.

POLICE REPORTS

Mrs. Leonard Drake, 1111 East Third street, told officers a Mexican had been disturbing her by beating on the door and singing. Police were looking for the singer.

The Rev. G. G. Schmid, 111 East Tenth street, reported theft of 20 new books, valued at $25, from his car in front of his home last night.

Jack Brinkerhoff, 2027 Greenleaf street, asked officers to help him find his bicycle, which he believes was stolen from his garage.

Walter Gredler, 210 South Shelton street, reported a young man had been molesting women along the street in his neighborhood.

Traffic fines in Judge J. G. Mitchell's city court yesterday were assessed against: Fred Sakon, speeding, $5; Norman Smith, parking, $1; W. J. Hicks, speeding, $6, and Dean Maxwell, speeding, $8.

ELKS DELEGATES DUE FRIDAY

V. L. Motry, exalted ruler B. P. O. E. 794, announced the arrival in Santa Ana for tomorrow about 5:45 p. m., of a good-will delegation of Elks en route from the East to the West—destination being Los Angeles, where the International convention is to be held week of July 12.

A motorcycle squad will act as escort, meeting the visitors at the city limits and leaving them at the Elks club on North Sycamore street, where an entertainment will be provided by the visitors and the local organization.

The Elks double quartet is scheduled for several numbers. Exalted Ruler Motry urged all members of chapter 794 to assemble at the club headqarters to give the visiting brothers a welcome.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN WYOMING

NEWCASTLE, Wyo., (AP)—Two thousand men fought three disastrous fires in "gunpowder dry" forests of Northeast Wyoming today.

Two of the blazes were under control but the third raged unchecked within one-half mile of the mountain town of Sundance, Wyo., in the heart of the Bear Lodge mountains.

The fire started near the town, which has a population of 400 and only a lucky shift in wind kept the flames from town instead of toward it.

The town, however, was threatened with a serious water shortage. Supplying water to more than 50 neighboring ranches and approximately 1000 men fighting the forest fire at its edge, Sundance found itself today without sufficient water for domestic needs.

An undetermined number of ranch houses in the forest near Sundance were destroyed and several families in the path of the flames were forced to flee.

More than 8000 acres of valuable timber and grazing land have been burned.

Young People to Study Pension

Santa Ana young people interested in the Townsend plan will rally each week at a Wednesday luncheon meeting in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street, according to plans made yesterday at an initial gathering.

Charles Heiser, director of the national youth movement, spoke to an audience which filled Townsend hall yesterday, following the luncheon. Frances Hensen and William Haupt, youthful proponents of the old-age pension plan, were other speakers.

The rally was arranged by Herbert F. Kenny, who will continue active work among local young people.

WPA Load Drops to 2,268,542

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Works Progress administration reported today that its employment load has steadily declined since February.

Aubrey Williams, deputy administrator, said that on June 20, the rolls had dropped to 2,268,542 workers, the lowest point since large scale operations began last November.

The number of employes carried by the entire works program also was at a new low on the same date, with 3,338,267 on the rolls, he said.

FIND PROCTOR GUILTY OF FORGERY

A superior court jury late yesterday found Jean Proctor, Anaheim youth, guilty of forging the name of Mrs. Lucy Michelini, Anaheim, to a $100 check, after Superior Judge H. G. Ames ruled out Proctor's defense that he had once been tried and acquitted of the same offense. Proctor will be sentenced July 13.

Judge Ames' ruling, a directed verdict requested by H. A. McCabe, deputy district attorney, left to the jury only the decision of whether Proctor was guilty of forgery.

A finding that Proctor had previously been tried for the same offense would have resulted in dismissal of the charges. Proctor previously was tried on three counts of grand theft and acquitted.

The jury yesterday disagreed, however, on a pretty theft charge, based on Mrs. Michelini's accusation that Proctor induced her to give him $150 to pay for an appendix operation which he did not have. On June 14 the petty theft case will be reset for trial.

More Guards Hurt In Ohio Strike

CINCINNATI. (AP)— Remington Rand officials reported a new outbreak of violence at their strike closed suburban Norwood plant today, saying three guards were injured by stones thrown as they drove into the plant.

The expressed belief the incident was the result of a misunderstanding by strikers of an agreement under which the plant will reopen Friday morning after a 48-hour truce that kept it closed for two days following three riots in which two score persons were injured and two buses wrecked.

Still Seeking Woman's Slayer

CHICAGO, (AP) — A coroner's jury today decided that the killing of Mrs. Florence Thompson Castle, 24-year-old night club entertainer found beaten to death in her bed June 29, was "murder at the hands of an unknown man."

The jury recommended the police continue search for the slayer, who beat the woman to death with a brick in a near north-side hotel room while her 7-year-old son, Jimmie, lay in bed beside her.

Cravens Death Still Mystery

DALY CITY, (AP)—The strange death of Junius Cravens, 35, San Francisco art critic, caused a coroner's jury to return a verdict today saying "the deceased came to his death from unknown causes and in view of the circumstances we recommend further investigation of the case."

Tells Platform

HARRY R. SHEPPARD

Harry R. Sheppard, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the 19th district, today announced his platform, which includes support of the Townsend plan. He said the plan is the only one so far advanced which provides economic justice for all.

There should be no tax exempt bonds, said Sheppard. He said he will indorse any proper legislation to take care of those less than 60 years of age who are physically incapacitated. He pledged support to the movement for bringing younger people into gainful employment and said he will work to protect the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively.

Other features of his platform include support for a farm program which will insure a fair profit to growers; support of the constitution; freedom of speech and press; adequate pensions and hospitalization for veterans and their dependents; opposition to foreign entanglements, and conscription of wealth in time of war.

County Minerals Worth 27 Million

Mineral rights in Orange county are valued at $27,854,390 instead of the $8,483,125 reported yesterday, Assessor James Sleeper said today.

Because most of the valuation is secured by real property, it was not segregated in the assessment report compiled yesterday, he said.

Huge Sum to Fox Not Recorded

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Herbert Leitsteen, bookkeeper for William Fox, testified at a federal bankruptcy hearing today that the All-Continent corporation transferred $445,000 to the movie magnate in 1932, but the item was not recorded on Fox's ledger.

To be a tight rope walker was Jean Arthur's earliest ambition. She's contented with being in the movies now, however.

ROSY FUTURE IS PAINTED BY ROPER

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A rosy forecast for business during the rest of this year was offered today by Secretary Roper after pointing to a variety of mid-year summaries that reflected gains over 1935.

The commerce department head said that the national income during 1935 was $53,000,000,000, and that present indications pointed to a 10 per cent gain during this 12 months.

Roper compared the 53 billion total—a little more than $400 for every man, woman and child—with the 39.5 billions in 1932 when the depression lows were recorded. He said that steady increases had been noted since. The all-time peak in national income was 81 billions in 1929.

The commerce head cited these factors for his optimistic predictions:

Employment gains each month this year, with 6,000,000 more employed than at the depression low early in 1933.

Production of 2,450,000 automobiles during the first half year.

Steel production during June at a six-year high, with the six-months total one-third above the like 1935 period.

Advances of 11 per cent in all industrial production, 10 per cent in retail trade, 9 per cent in freight traffic and 11 per cent in cash farm income.

He said farmers now were paid 66 per cent more for their products than in 1932 while goods they bought cost only 17 per cent more.

Brother Leavitt, also one-time Star, is doing right well over at Anaheim playing left field and batting in the lead-off hole.

Attention, Santa Ana Trojans: Fourteen members of the U. S. C. track squad will seek places on the American Olympic team when final tryouts are staged this week-end on Randall's Island, N. Y. C. Also four Trojan grads.

Expect Wayne Harrison, Bob Fernandez, already looking forward to flinging away their nickels on Trojan football, to take heart from this.

Conceded best chances among the men of Troy to make the Berlin trip are Kenny Carpenter, discus; Hal Smallwood and Al Fitch, 400-meter dash or 1600-yard relay; Foy Draper, 100-meter or 400-meter relay, and Earle Meadows and Bill Sefton, pole vault.

Ex-Trojan Frank Wykoff will run his last American race Saturday in making a bid for the squad; Bill Graber, pole vaulter and '32 games point winner; Doyle Gilbert, in the hop, step and jump, and Al Olson, former intercollegiate broad jump champion from the L. A. seat of learning, will be out there trying.

Gilbert is the lad you and you and you chipped in to send East from Santa Ana. A Santa Ana Stanford man headed the drive for the Gilbert war chest, and the Stanford club of Santa Ana made the first contribution. Community spirit.

In case you're interested, Promoter Sam Sampson of the O. C. A. C. is definitely set to bring professional fights into Orange county if the simon-purse continue to draw slim crowds.

Sam says he can get the money fighters in here on a straight percentage basis, so how could he lose?

As it is he's making money on wrestling and dropping it on boxing, and if that isn't foolish who ever heard of anything that was? No accounting for the public.

In case he gets his license he will be allowed 32 rounds in a night, giving the county fight fan one 10, two six and two four-round battles in an evening. With one name a week and no increase in prices, wouldn't they draw?

* * *

Incidentally, clouting K. O. Vargas, the Placentia boy who fights his fourth fight in the main spot tonight, is the best middleweight prospect seen in these parts for many moons.

He fights on his toes, hits from both sides, and there's thunder when he connects. Tough Ken Halliday hasn't been back since Vargas landed his Sunday punch in the first round four weeks ago. So watch him.

Allison Out in Dutch Tourney

NOORDWIJK, Holland, (AP)—Wilmer Allison, American champion, and Gerald Stratford of San Francisco were eliminated today in the second round of the international Dutch tennis championships.

Allison dropped a five-set decision to Joop Knottenbelt, 6-1, 1-6, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4.

Stratford fell before Tom Hughan, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

However, American victories were scored by John Van Ryn and Mrs. Van Ryn of Philadelphia. Van Ryn vanquished Guy Van Zuylen, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0, while his wife conquered Mrs. Marie Joncquiere, 7-5, 6-2.

FAVORITES TO BATTLE FOR TOP SPOT

Elks and First National Square Off; M. E. Will Tilt With Knights

SANTA ANA CITY LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
First National Bank	2	0	1.000
Elks	1	0	1.000
Joe's Grocery	1	0	1.000
Commercial Nat'l Bank	1	1	.500
Knights of Columbus	1	1	.500
Carpenters	1	2	.333
Latter Day Saints	1	2	.333
M. E. South	0	2	.000

Favorites of the city league second-half battle will fight it out tonight at the Municipal bowl, with the perfect record of one of them due to be spoiled.

Manager Kenneth Miller will lead his Elks ball club into action against the mighty men of the First National Bank team, not a bit nonplused at the show of power made so far by the bankers.

In the second game M. E. South will go to bat against the Knights of Columbus, with the Knights favored to win for undisputed possession of second place in league standings, unless the bankers drop their fight, which would complicate matters.

Manager Gene Hitt is confident that his First National will keep up the winning pace it has set, and upset the '35 champions. The bankers will take the field in full strength tonight, and share their mentor's confidence.

The race for honors in the second half is wide open. Commercial National Bank, first half winner, has dropped a game to the K. of C. team, although it can't be counted out yet.

As matters stand at least three teams, the First National Bank, Elks and Joe's Grocery are in the thick of the fight with perfect records. The Knights team is counting on going places behind Ray Ortiz pitching, and the first-half winners are still coming.

FLYERS FACE ORANGE

Orange's hard-fighting niteball squad takes to the diamond tonight against the Westminster Aviators in an effort to recoup from last Tuesday's night's bitter pill, administered by Anaheim in a sparkling game.

The rejuvenated Orange team will make things interesting for Francis Penhall's Flyers tonight.

Pitcher Roger Larimer allowed Anaheim only six hits last Tuesday, and in Westminster's game against Olive Monday night Fuzzy Errington yielded exactly the same number. On paper the two teams stack up as about evenly matched, although Orange is struggling to get out of the dumps, and Westminster is determined to climb.

Penhall's aggregation is considered the dark horse of the second half, while Orange, still an uncertainty, has demonstrated it will have more strength than it showed in the first half race.

Santa Ana swings into action tomorrow night in the bowl against a rejuvenated Olive team, and the Oilers of Huntington Beach, still missing the mighty Neva, stand up to Anaheim.

STEINKE IS WINNER

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — Hans Steinke, loser in the first fall, bounced George Zaharias on the mat to take the second and the decision at the Olympic auditorium wrestling show last night. Zaharias was declared unable to continue.

OLYMPIC OUTLOOK

Star-Spangled Field Brigade Likely to Rule '36 Olympics

ANOTHER IN A SERIES OF DAILY STORIES

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK. (AP)—Due mainly to an extraordinary group of agile young men who have consistently displayed their ability to out-jump and out-vault the world, the United States figures to dominate most of the Olympic field events.

Post-war years have developed keen opposition in some specialties, especially from the Japanese, but the Americans have sustained a record-breaking pace in enough events to warrant expectations that our lads will grab a substantial number of points at Berlin in August.

At their best, this country's athletes are capable of sweeping the high jump and pole vault, in spite of Japan's potential challenge in both events. Our record-breakers in other specialties, such as Jesse Owens in the broad jump and Jack Torrance in the shotput, may be harder pressed, but they have shown their ability to come through under such circumstances. We will have a good chance to take the hammer and discus throws, but comparatively poor prospects for winning the javelin, decathlon and hop, step and jump.

U. S. Suffers Setbacks

The United States has always suffered some setbacks. Eulace Peacock, national broad jump champion and rival of the great Jesse Owens, failed to recover from a leg injury. John Lyman, our second best shotputter, and Keith Brown, world-record pole vaulter, have retired from competition. These losses may be offset, in part at least, by the rapid development of reinforcements.

Germany, despite recent losses from injuries, apparently will join forces with Scandinavia in challenging America's weight men. The Teuton, Woellke, credited with better than 54 feet this year, looms as a real barrier for Torrance, world shotput record holder. In the discus, there's a real battle in prospect with America's Ken Carpenter, Slinger Dunn and Phil Levy, if they survive final tests, meeting Germany's Schroeder, and Sweden's world record holder. Harald Andersson, among others. Carpenter's recent toss of 173 feet rivals Schroeder's best toss of 174 feet 2⅜ inches, both pushes being beyond the world mark.

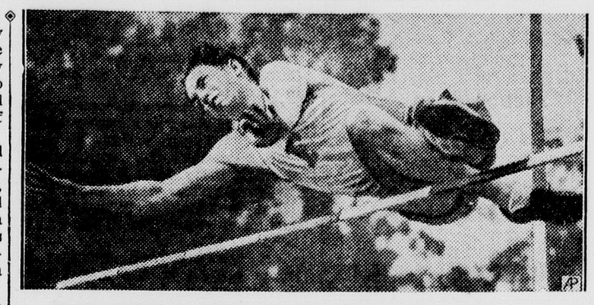

Besides Chuhei Nishida, 1932 runnerup in the pole vault, Japan has a newcomer, Suye Oye, credited with 14 feet 3 inches. Americans are pretty well justified, however, in entertaining confidence that their consistent 14-footers led by Bill Sefton and Earle Meadows of Southern California will uphold the best traditions of U. S. performers in this acrobatic specialty.

Hammer Throwers Look Good

Possible loss of the discus, won by John Anderson for the U. S. A. four years ago, may be offset by recapture of the hammer-throwing championship. Latest reports indicate Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, Ireland's two-time champion, will not be at Berlin. Meanwhile, the Rhode Island contingent, headed by Henry Dreyer, Irving Folwarthny and Bill Rowe, had been achieving from 170 to 180 feet with the hammer. Finland's Ville Porhola, 1932 runnerup, and an Esthonian named Annamaa, who has done 174 feet, are the best European prospects.

Despite notable improvement by our javelin throwers this year, with Alton Terry, a Texan, achieving a new national record of 226 feet 2¾ inches, Finland dominates this event. The Olympic champion, Matti Jarvinen, is better than ever. He recently tossed the spear past 253 feet. His chief rival, Gerhardt Stoeck of Germany, with a mark of 242 feet, has been side-tracked by an injury.

Similarly, the hop, step and jump appears out of the reach of any American, including Roland Romero, who has done 50 feet 4 inches. Australia's Jack Metcalfe, claimant of a new world record at 51 feet 9⅝ inches, likely will be rivaled only by the Japanese contingent. Japan has captured this event in the last two Olympics, with Oda and Nambu.

Marty makes it. The main reason Uncle Sam's sons are favored in the 1936 Olympic field events lies in the skill of America's high jumpers and pole vaulters. California's Walter Marty (above) holds the world high jump record of 6 feet 9⅛ inches.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

See If You Can Spot These

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, (AP)—You sports fans know who Max Schmeling whipped recently and who holds the national open golf championship, but how are your memories on the sports headliners of a year ago?

Here's a quick way of finding out how much rust has accumulated. Get out your pencils, keep your eyes from dropping down, and see how good you are on the sport stories that made big news in 1935.

Don't get overconfident if you start off fast—they get tougher.

1. Which team won the 1935 Rose Bowl game?
2. What track athlete shattered three world records and tied another in one afternoon—and the events?
3. Which woman tennis star made the greatest rally of the year and what major net championship did it bring her?
4. Who was the leading hitter of the 1935 world series?
5. What team contributed the biggest thrill to football last fall and (here's a tip) how were the Buckeyes beaten?
6. Name the golfer who completed a "little slam" in championships and name the events he captured.
7. What was the biggest boxing upset of the year?
8. Who won the year's record daily double track bet and how much did he win for $2?
9. Who made the greatest golf shot of 1935, a shot which enabled him to win $1500?
10. Name the three big races which Omaha captured after winning the Kentucky Derby.
11. What "home town" boy made good by winning a major golf championship?
12. How did Kingfish Levinsky glibly explain his first-round beating by Joe Louis, thereby contributing one of the classic remarks of the fight game's history?

Here are the answers: (1) Alabama 29, Stanford 13; (2) Jesse Owens, Ohio State, tied 100-yard dash, broke world records in 220-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles and broad jump; (3) Helen Wills Moody won last five games of final set after trailing 2-5 to win Wimbledon championship from Helen Jacobs; (4) Pete Fox, Detroit right-hander, .385; (5) Notre Dame, by scoring three touchdowns in last period to beat Ohio State, 18 to 13; (6) Lawson Little, who won British and United States amateur titles in 1934 and 1935; (7) When James J. Braddock beat Max Baer for heavyweight title; (8) Harry Topser, Jersey City, N. J., truck driver, who won $7205.40 for $2 at Tropical Park, Fla.; (9) Gene Sarazen, who sank 200-yard spoon shot for a deuce on a 485-yard hole, giving him tie with Craig Wood in Augusta Masters' tournament and enabling him to win playoff and $1500 first money; (10) The Preakness, Belmont and the $30,000 Arlington classic; (11) Sam Parks of Pittsburgh, National open winner at Oakmont; (12) "I was in a transom!"

YAWKEY GRINS ABOUT BEES

BOSTON. (AP) — Tom Yawkey, owner and president of the Boston Red Sox, is not "the least bit alarmed" over what some baseball writers have labelled the "collapse of the Red Sox."

Questioned today concerning this "collapse," Yawkey replied, "there is nothing to it."

"I am perfectly satisfied with the way the club is going," Yawkey said.

"No pennant claims were made for my club by me or my front office. We may not win this year, but we will next year or the year after. So far as criticism on the way my money is being spent, that's my business — and my money. I figure I have received value for every penny I have spent."

L. A. Water Bugs May Miss Berlin

NEW YORK. (AP)—Fred Luehring, chairman of the American Olympic swimming committee, said today the Los Angeles Athletic club's water pool team may not represent the United States at Berlin if the Los Angeles A. C. fails to raise money for the team's expenses. The Californians defeated the New York Athletic club in the final try-outs last week.

Luehring has advised Frank Harbutt, president of the L. A. A. C., that he has until next Sunday to raise approximately $6000 to cover a 13-man squad or else the runner-up New York A. C. team may be chosen if the winged-foot club can meet the financial requirements.

Lutze, Pico Are Signed Again

It looks like Nick Lutze and Juan Olaquivel-Pico, principals in one of the wildest wrestling matches Lutze has ever engaged in during his decade of wrestling in the top-notch bracket, probably will be rematched to headline Monday night's four-bout mat program at the Orange County Athletic club.

Olaquival-Pico today was to file a protest with the State Athletic commission demanding a rematch. The Basque-Mexican contends that Referee Hopkins favored Lutze from the start of the match and because of Hopkins' unfairness, Pico asserts, aroused him (Pico) to such an extent that he lost his head and kicked the referee, bringing about his disqualification.

It is understood that Lutze is willing to grant the rematch whether or not the commission rules in favor of Pico. Sampson already has Oki Shikina and Bill Hanson signed for the card.

FLYING CLOUD LEADS RACE

SANTA MONICA, (AP)—With the yawl Flying Cloud in the van, 21 of the 22 windjammers which left here Saturday for Honolulu were reported sailing under favorable conditions today, well along on their racing course.

One of the entries, the Honolulu yacht Dolphin, was back in port today.

"It was quit—or thirst," said Skipper Fred Hundhammer, explaining a pet-cock on the ship's water tanks had been left open and the supply of drinking water gave out.

The last communication from the Flying Cloud, of the Los Angeles Yacht club, placed her about 725 miles out on the 2240-mile trip and in a favorable windward position.

Fifty miles astern at the same time was the schooner Sartartia, operated by Buck Jones, film actor.

Angels Train in Ontario Next Year

ONTARIO. (AP)—The Los Angeles baseball club will hold spring training here next spring.

The city council, the Ontario chamber of commerce and Oscar Reichow, vice president of the club, came to terms and the outfit is slated to move in February 25 for a five-week training session.

Exhibition games are to be lined up with the Chicago White Sox, Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates. The latter club is scheduled to train at San Bernardino, where the Angels held forth last spring.

MORE ROOKIES MOVE UP IN MAJORS

Early-Season Freshmen Not So Exclusive as Race Warms Up

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK. (AP)—With the mid-year examinations successfully behind this year's big league freshmen, the early-season sensations—Joe DiMaggio and Stu Martin—are not nearly so exclusive at the head of the class as they were a few weeks ago.

Although the Yankee fly-chaser and the Cardinal infielder are still tops among the rookies, despite the former's "bust" as an all-star game performer and the latter's steadily-fading batting mark, they are getting plenty of competition for recruit honors from several other first-year hopefuls.

Other Hopefuls

For instance, on the infield list besides Martin are such hard workers as Les Scarsella and Buddy Hassett, first-sackers for the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers, respectively, and the third basemen of the Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates—Johnny Lewis and Bill Brubaker.

All are batting considerably better than .300, and none has lost anywhere near as much ground in the hitting race as has Martin, who dropped from .409 to .349 in the last month.

Scarsella and Hassett probably had tougher assignments than the others, the former because he was called in after the season was well under way to plug a vital gap in the Red lineup, and Hassett because he has had to show his stuff on a club that seems headed nowhere but the cellar.

Bees Have 'Em

Close to DiMaggio as standout rookie in the outfield is Big Jim Ripple of the New York Giants, now batting around .350.

Also listed as outfield rookie class are Gene Moore, the Boston Bees' steady performer; Mike Kreevich of the White Sox, and Ernie Sulik of the Phillies.

The new catching material includes another promising Philly youngster, Bill Atwood, who is near the top for slugging honors with .404.

The rookie pitching crop is not so classy as could be hoped for, although the Cardinals' Jim Winford, with three victories against one setback, and the Red Sox' Jim Henry, undefeated and winner four times, are promising.

Harry Kelley, husky right-hander from Atlanta, may be even better than those two, but he will not get the chance to show it this year—not with the weak collection of Athletics Connie Mack has in Philadelphia.

Pitchers Outguess Coast League Heavy Hitters

By the Associated Press

Three Pacific Coast league tussles yesterday produced only 11 runs by the six teams involved.

Two 1-0 contests, one of them protested, were recorded as the chuckers held scoring to a minimum. In the third a ninth inning rally finally produced a winning counter in a pitcher's battle.

The league leading Oakland Acorns dropped a 1-0 game to San Diego; the San Francisco Missions took a 1-0 victory over Sacramento; San Francisco edged out Portland, 5-4, and Los Angeles trimmed Seattle 5-2, in yesterday's contests.

Manager Bill Myer said he would protest the Padre victory on a ruling made by Umpire Leake in the eighth inning. The Acorns seemed set to tie the score when LeRoy Anton blasted out a long hit and pulled up at third. The umpire sent him back to second, citing a ground rule in effect when the ball hit a gate.

Bartholomae Off For Olympics

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Bluff Bill Bartholomae, jr., who will skipper his six-meter sloop Mystery for America in the Olympic games, leaves tomorrow night for New York on the first leg of his European jaunt.

The Newport Yacht Club mariner will be joined by John B. Wallace and Morgan Adams, two of his crew, in Manhattan. They will race boats from 14 countries at Kiel Harbor, Germany, in August.

Dutch Treat

Wilmer Allison, highly favored American star, found a Dutchman by the name of Joop Knottenbelt too tough for him yesterday in Noordwijk, Holland, when Knottenbelt pushed him out of the international Dutch tennis championships in a five-set match.

OLYMPIC WAR CHEST FILLS

Full Track Team To See Berlin as Coffers Slowly Gain

NEW YORK. (AP)—The Olympic situation, which had officials worried two days ago, seems to be straightening itself out, although members of the American Olympic committee have not yet found any reason for discontinuing appeals for contributions to send America's athletes to the Berlin games.

Since Sunday some $10,000 in contributions has been received, including $2500 from a New York committee which has promised to collect at least $10,000, Gustavus T. Kirby, A. O. C. treasurer, announced.

Several special contributions have been received for expenses of special athletes, and the advance sale for the final track and field tryouts at Randall's island has been booming.

Some $4500 worth of tickets were sold yesterday, bringing the total advance sale to about $16,000. That put enough in the coffers to assure a full track team of three men for each event to Europe and a surplus is expected to help out the other squads.

Anonymous donors heard "hard luck" tales of a girl who had pawned her engagement ring to provide her own expense money and a boy whose parents had taken money set aside for his college expenses for next year and offered to contribute the necessary sums.

Nearly 300 athletes preparing to take part in the final track and field trials Saturday and Sunday worked out at various fields, while city officials took steps to correct the few defects in the stadium track, runways and field event circles discovered in Monday's first test.

ACID TEST IN GLOVES OF O'NEIL

Highway Arena Prelim Card Sparkles; Leo Lopez To Show

Tonight the most talked-about amateur fighter in this section will come to his Rubicon. He can cross it or drown in it.

Two months ago Ray (Wildman) Vargas, the Atwood Assassin of simon-pures, had never officially tasted leather. Tonight, after a sensational fistic rise, he sidles through the ropes at the Highway 101 arena in the main event.

He will face a clouting leather-pusher from the Corona athletic club, one Eddie O'Neil, who has definitely promised to push the wild man's ears off his map.

Lopez To Show

O'Neil will give Vargas the acid test, although many felt the Atwood boy's victory over tough Larry Ledford last week had proven the point that he's a great fighter. If he bumps off the Corona boy tonight he'll be on his way.

Vargas in only three fights has hung a first round K. O. on Ken Halliday, picked up a three-round knockout in his next out, and outpointed Ledford, for two years a real threat to the junior middleweights.

Chief Joe Lopez, conqueror of Lupe Cordoza, and a fighter in any language, gets a strong dose of his own medicine when he faces Mayo Sario in the semi-windup. This should be something to see.

The Clown Again

Cwon Barry, who has won a fistic following through pure buffoonery, will have to fight tonight if he expects to end his tiff with Paul (Tuxedo) Saucedo on his feet and not on his back. Badge Diaz faces Ray Delgado in a special event that promises dynamite.

In the other battle Ray Robles faces Johnny Chavez; Joe Orona matches swats with Pete Aguirre; Danny Moreno fights Manuel Calderon and Midget Reese tangles with Ray Placentia.

The curtain goes up at 8:30 p. m.

Olympic Casaba Squad to Show

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Post-season basketball fans will journey to the Olympic auditorium tonight for a benefit game between the Universal Pictures team, America's Olympic representative, and a picked squad of collegians coached by Sam Barry of U. S. C. and Caddy Works of U. C. L. A.

Gate receipts will be turned directly over to Coach Jimmy Needle's Universal team for its expenses to New York.

Mrs. Fred Reyer Tourney Winner

Mrs. Fred Reyer, with a 56-12-44 score, was winner of the Ladies' Day tournament at Willowick Country club yesterday. The women played an odd nine event.

Mrs. Sidney Harris, with 55-10-45; Mrs. Harry Woodington, with 53-8-45, and Mrs. Charles Chapman, with 53-8-45, turned up a triple tie for the second-place trophy.

LAGUNA BEACH COUNCIL NAMES PLANNING COMMISSION

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

AT LAST the subject of wearing apparel of bathers seems to have come to the front.

Down at San Juan Capistrano, Editor Verner Beck chuckles at Laguna Beach swimmers thusly:

They're all a-dither over in Laguna Beach.

Strange to say the lack of covering on the beach males is the cause.

Once upon a time a young lady would cause a stampede when the wind blew her multiple of skirts above her shoe-tops. Today over in Laguna—well, better not say it.

The males have tried to stay a couple jumps ahead of the feminine queens, but one more jump and they will shake hands with Adam. That's what the natives of Laguna fear, and some of them want a crusade started to forestall the males from climbing into rubber rompers. They are primarily a protective measure for babies.

And they don't harmonize with a hairy chest.

* * *

Editor Beck's attack on the male swimmers brings to mind another thought. Why hasn't someone started a shop for vulcanizing these new rubber suits so popular with younger female visitors at the beach resorts? Seems like it'd be an absorbing occupation for some progressive resident of each community.

* * *

They might even make their business signs read "Suits patched while you wade."

And also advertise long-life retreading jobs, guaranteed to outlast the non-skid qualities of the original.

* * *

What's happened to Costa Mesa? For a long time, we were continually busy reading about proposed campaigns to acquaint folks with possibilities of the community, about drives against low-flying airplanes, about bicycle pathways and free baskets of food for newcomers, as well as goat farms and naval academies.

I guess I'll have to call on Dr. C. G. Huston, the city's senatorial candidate, and find out what's wrong. The last time I called on the doctor, he introduced me to a frog farm, so I guess I can't go very far wrong going to see him again.

Perhaps he can dig me up an alligator hatchery, or something!

* * *

I hope County Game Warden Jackson doesn't hear about this, but I went deer hunting the other evening.

It all started with a barbecue up in Irvine park.

The evening was pleasant and warm, but we sat around the fire anyway, and the talk, for some reason or other, swung around to deer hunting.

Before we could get Marshal Steen stopped, he'd killed five of the beasts. Then Bob Russell swung in with three of his own, all stone dead at the first—or maybe it was the second—shot.

I decided to stay within the limit, and only shot two—the biggest one got away, however.

After we'd dressed the animals, and hung 'em in trees, we sat down and ate just ordinary beef.

But it was a fine hunting trip, while it lasted!

* * *

Trouticus Tremenduoso, big brother to M. M. McCallen's Jackrabbitus Giganticus, is causing no end of trouble.

Bob Guild promised all sorts of revelations about the huge feller when I returned from my vacation, and here a week's almost slipped by and for all anyone knows, Trouticus might as well still be swimming around in his element.

The trouble so far has been with the photographer. Asked to develop a picture of Trouticus, he took one look at the negative, shrieked twice and fell into a swoon. A real deep swoon.

He recovered consciousness along about lunch time, shouted, "Well, I swoon to goodness!" and collapsed again.

But as swoon as he gets the picture finished, I'll tell my story, and then try and stick to it!

VACATIONS IN G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—Miss Frances Dungan, Los Angeles, is vacationing this week at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harie Dungan, and taking short trips. Monday and Tuesday were spent in San Diego attending the fair.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. McElehny were their son and wife Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McElehny and children of San Diego.

VISIT IN STANTON

STANTON.—Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Taylor, Coachella, Miss Mary Beuhler, Los Angeles, and Vic Davis, Pomona, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sawtelle.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Robison, Los Angeles, spent July 4 with Mrs. Robert Clark.

ENTERTAIN AT STANTON

STANTON.—Mr. and Mrs. King Rutledge have entertained Mrs. Henry Meyers and children, Silverado canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hudson, Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Carter, Redondo, as guests recently.

CLUB WOMEN PLACED ON BOARD

Artists, City Officials, To Serve on Newly Formed Body

LAGUNA BEACH.—Two prominent clubwomen and one well-known artist are included in the personnel of the newly created Laguna Beach city planning commission, named at an adjourned meeting of the city council here last night.

The two women are Mrs. Malinda Woodworth, president of the Laguna Beach Garden club, and Mrs. Susan C. Kimmell, president of the Woman's club of Laguna Beach. Frank W. Cuprien, dean of the art colony, is the artist member of the commission. Other members named were Andrew B. Marshall, representing the realty board; J. Edward Eberle, property owner and Manfred De Ahna, local architect. Mayor L. F. Mallow, City Engineer Arthur J. Stead, and Fire Chief Peter J. Bushman will serve as ex-officio members of the commission.

Final reading of an amended ordinance which would exempt real estate salesmen from paying a city business license fee and raise the fee for brokers from $10 to $15 a year was deferred until the next regular meeting. It was pointed out, however, that real estate salesmen, engaged in that line of work since July 1, 1936, are required to take out a business license.

SYMPHONY TO BE PRESENTED

NEWPORT - BALBOA.—An announcement has been made here that the county federal music project symphony orchestra will present a concert in the Newport elementary school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. next Tuesday.

Leon Eckles will be conductor. The program includes:

Symphony No. 8 (unfinished), Schubert; allegro moderato, andante con moto.

"Heart-Wounds," Grieg; "Rustle of Spring," Sinding.

Spanish Dances (2 and 5), Moskowsky.

FDR VIRTUALLY ELECTED

Landslide Predicted by Seer

By ARVID GILMOUNT

LAGUNA BLACH.—Re-election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt by one of the greatest majority votes ever given a candidate for the White House, is predicted by Princess Zoraida, who has opened a studio at 510 Canyon road, Fairywood, Laguna Beach. The princess advertises herself as the greatest living Egyptian palmist, clairvoyant and crystal gazer.

Such is the confidence she places in her ability to foretell impending events and forecast the future, that she has written President Roosevelt, advising him of her predictions. In passing, it might be added, she predicted the Florida boom, the Wall Street crash and election of President Roosevelt in 1932.

She is an Egyptian by birth and is a descendent from one of the oldest and most aristocratic families of the Nile country. Her great-grandfather was known as one of the greatest "seers" of Egypt. Among those who consulted with Princess Zoraida, according to her own statement, are Jack Dempsey, J. P. Morgan, Marconi, General Pershing, Mary Pickford and other celebrities.

MAN BURNED IN H. B. BLAZE

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Frank Streeter of Bellflower, employed at Standard Oil company's gasoline plant No. 4 in the Barley field lease west of Huntington Beach, suffered serious burns about the face and arms at 5 o'clock last evening when a fire of unknown origin roared from pipes in the cellar of the plant.

Streeter placed a fire alarm and employes of the oil company, aided by the Huntington Beach fire department, extinguished the blaze, which damaged the plant to the extent of about $500, it was reported.

The injured man was treated for first and second degree burns at the Hardy emergency hospital and then taken to his home in Bellflower, where his condition was said to be satisfactory today.

FIRE CAMPS IN COUNTY SEEN

ORANGE.—P. I. Kurtz, superintendent of construction of the Cleveland national forest, and A. M. Longacre, district ranger, yesterday inspected Orange county fire protection camps. These camps have a corps of four men, and one fire fighting tank truck. Harvey E. French is the ranger in charge of the Silverado camp; at Trabuco CCC camp, J. P. Platz is camp superintendent, and at San Juan CCC camp the superintendent is Kenneth Seebold.

The primary purpose of these camps is to provide a shock crew in case of fire, and thus often prevent what might be a large conflagration. This summer the camps are also doing protective work in summer fire hazard reduction. Installation of cattle guards across roads, telephone maintenance work, and building of fire breaks is also included in the program.

As soon as a lease is secured for the site, a permanent building to house the Silverado station will be begun, it is announced. The plant will have approximately $4000 in improvements this year, with additional improvements to be added later, it was announced by Longacre.

STRIKE PICKET RULING MADE

WASHINGTON. (AP) — Attorney General Cummings announced he believed the new anti-strike breaking law, passed by the last congress, applied only to cases where individuals are taken across state lines to interfere with "peaceful picketing" and does not apply to the interstate transportation of men to work in factories, where strikers are in progress.

The attorney general said he found the term "peaceful picketing" as used in the law, would be governed probably in individual cases by the laws of the various states.

The attorney general said he had received already from his aides a preliminary report on the meaning of the law, and that lawyers are now analyzing the laws of the 48 states, along with court opinions, on the question of picketing.

Cummings pointed out that all picketing is illegal in some states, while some states allow picketing if it is not accompanied by violence.

HISTORY OF OLD SWAMP ON KVOE

Feature Tonight Will Describe Early-Day County District

Residents of the western part of Orange county, and those in Westminster in particular, will be interested in this evening's research project historical broadcast to discuss "Gospel Swamp" and to be broadcast from KVOE at 5:30.

This will be one of the regular series of historical broadcasts made every Thursday at the same hour under the auspices of the Santa Ana city schools by W. W. Wieman, principal of the Lathrop Evening High school, and Mrs. Marion Minor, Miss Lulu Walker and W. L. Mayhew, members of the research project. The broadcasts concern historical events of interest which happened in early Southern California and Orange county days.

Sons of Pioneers

The Sons of the Pioneers—Bob Nolan, Verne Spencer, Lem Slye and Carl and Hugh Farr—will offer a program of familiar songs tonight at 6:45 to include old favorites and novelty tunes. Among them will be "Utah Trail," "Seeing Nellie Home," "Ain't We Crazy" and "Threw It Out the Window."

A special program for tuberculosis patients in the Orange county hospital, their friends and the general public will be presented by KVOE and Dr. C. O. Patterson of Anaheim from 7 to 7:30 tonight to comprise songs and musical saw numbers. The program was arranged as one of a series of entertainment features scheduled once a week for the hospital patients by a former resident of Orange county who requests that her name not be mentioned. Facilities for tonight's program were not available at the hospital, so the radio station is cooperating to make the entertainment possible and to extend it to the public as well.

Children's Program

Selections will include the songs, "On the Road to Mandalay," "I Love Life," "Shortnin' Bread," "Sunshine of Your Smile," and the musical saw numbers, "I Love You Truly," "A Perfect Day," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and others.

"The Children's Orchestra," composed of boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 16 years, all of whom have received their training through WPA study, will be presented tonight at 8:30. The orchestra, conducted by Vincenco Paladino, will play Gounod's "Serenata," the gypsy song "Two Guitars," and two movements of a composition by Paladino. They are "Andante" and "Tempo de Polka."

Leaves Cycle as Security for Car

A very considerate car thief visited Emil Lemke, Olive resident, Tuesday night.

He took Lemke's car, which was evidently what he came after, but he left a motorcycle there as security. Lemke reported the motorcycle was out of gas.

Sheriff's officers today were investigating to determine whether or not the cycle had been stolen, and were attempting to trace the stolen car.

BURKE GIVES HIS SOLUTION OF JOBLESS PROBLEM

"If you were President, would you handle the unemployment relief situation as he has?"

"No," replied J. Frank Burke. "With two or three business men, I could have taken not more than two-thirds of the relief money put into this county, and solved the problem permanently by putting unemployed to work producing for themselves."

Burke's proposal for relieving unemployment was made during a discussion period following his address on the Democratic platform at the weekly meeting last night of the Forum for Political and Economic Education in the Unitarian church.

Property Confiscation

The whole relief program of the present administration is based upon the expectation of industrial recovery reabsorbing unemployed before relief costs mount to the point of virtual property confiscation, the speaker said.

That Roosevelt does not propose to take any backward step is shown in his acceptance speech and the wording of the Democratic platform, Burke declared.

Protection of family and home, establishment of democracy, and aid for those overtaken by disaster were cited as keynotes of the platform. He listed as progressive accomplishments of the administration the guarantee of bank deposits, the social security act, saving of many homes through federal home loans, increased prices for agricultural products, and an effort, through NRA, to aid labor.

Nothing to Lose

During his recent trip East, Burke recalled, a Roosevelt opponent declared he thought the President would be re-elected "because the people who haven't got anything to lose are for him. They are in the majority and are increasing in number every day."

Quoting an article concerning New Deal opponents, Burke said that many who "hate" Roosevelt are those whose stocks and bonds have trebled in value during his term. He said they can give no sound reason for their stand.

It was the great captains of industry who wrecked NRA, Burke averred, just as business classes no longer in the red are now opposing taxation to aid unemployed groups still in need.

Suggests Solution

"I'd rather be a taxpayer than recipient of government aid. You must let the unemployed starve, support them from taxes or let them produce for themselves. I think eventually they must produce for themselves," Burke stated.

Continuing the discussion of unemployment, Lou Betts and Dr. C. J. Ruley spoke on the part machinery plays in production and distribution, through displacement of men in certain fields and creation of jobs in other lines.

W. H. "Ted" Blanding, forum chairman, presided. He announced a meeting of the forum committee for noon today. On the governing body are R. C. Hoiles, E. M. Sundquist, James Anderson, M. W. Hollingsworth, Horace Head and Blanding.

Italy, Germany Seek to Prevent Hapsburgs' move

VIENNA. (AP)—A spokesman for the Heimwehr (home guard) said today Italy and Germany had concluded a far-reaching agreement to prevent a restoration of the Hapsburg throne in Austria for at least three years.

This secret information, said the spokesman, was received by leaders of the Heimwehr.

He listed four points in the reported accord:

1. Germany's recognition of Italian sovereignty in Ethiopia.
2. Germany's guarantee of Austria's independence for three years.
3. Italy's guarantee there would be no Hapsburg restoration within three years.
4. Austria and Germany to sign an agreement ironing out their differences before next Sept. 15, when Nationalist influences will be reincorporated into the Austrian cabinet.

Plan Force to Oust Strikers

PARIS, (AP)—An armed force will be used "with care" to oust French strikers who refuse appeals to evacuate business places, Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro said today.

The minister explained that by an armed force he meant policemen "without bayonets." Paul Faure, minister of state, concurred in the plan.

His declaration was made to a Socialist delegation from the chamber of deputies, and followed the outbreak of fresh "folded arm" strikes in Paris and the provinces.

The strikers will be asked to leave the factories by the mayor, then by a labor union delegate and finally by the local member of parliament, Salengro asserted. If these three appeals fail, the government will resort to force, he declared.

STEVENS SAVED FROM NOOSE

SACRAMENTO. (AP) — Saved from the hangman's rope by Gov. Frank F. Merriam's reprieve, Charles P. Stevens, former Los Angeles policeman, was serving a life sentence today.

The war veteran who refused to sign for $700 in bonus bonds after giving up all hope after receiving two reprieves, was to have died Friday for the "gangland" murder of Mike Muchich in Los Angeles in 1921.

Governor Merriam, in commuting the death sentence to life imprisonment, said "most unusual circumstances" prompted his action. He said the ex-policeman was not implicated until five years after the crime, an asserted accomplice was acquitted on the same evidence which convicted Stevens, and the judge had expressed dissatisfaction with their verdict, and the judge had declared Stevens was not skilfully represented at the trial.

COURT TO RULE ON INSURANCE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP) — Constitutionality of California's unemployment insurance system is up to the state supreme court. Eventual collections totaling $50,000,000 a year are involved.

Arguments were completed yesterday in the mandamus action brought by a hotel against the state treasurer and the unemployment reserves commission, and the question was formally submitted.

The court's decision will determine whether the state can pay over to the federal government, as provided in the unemployment reserves act, the insurance premiums it has been collecting from both employers and employes since last Jan. 1.

California's constitution forbids sending state funds out of the state. The unemployment reserves commission holds the monies it collects are not state funds within constitutional definition. The state merely acting as an agent under the national unemployment insurance law.

Justice John W. Shenk remarked from the bench during the hearing it might be well to keep the monies collected in state custody until the constitutionality of the national act was determined, since once the money were paid over to the federal government there was no machinery provided for its recapture.

Shoe Firm, Hurt By NRA Collapse, Will Cut Wages

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (AP)—The Endicott-Johnson Shoe Corporation, asserting that business competition resulting from the collapse of the NRA made it necessary, has ordered a 10 per cent reduction in the pay of its 500 executives and salaried workers effective Aug. 1.

"We believe in retrenching where it won't hurt so much," George F. Johnson, chairman of the board, said in assuring the company's 18,500 shop employes that their wages would not be cut "until we are forced to do it."

FARM STRIKE IS OVER IN ARKANSAS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (AP)—The "general strike" among tenant farmers, sharecroppers and day laborers in East Arkansas was ended today by declaration of the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union.

"Over a wide area," said the statement of the union's executive council, "we won an average wage of $1 a day for day labor. In some counties we won $1.25 for a 10-hour day. For the first time in the history of the union, a number of union contracts were signed by smaller landowners."

H. L. Mitchell, secretary, claims the "new scale of pay in most cases represents increases of 25 per cent," and demonstrates "to the most exploited of all workers that their salvation lies in their own united effort."

Hawaii's favorable trade balance is about $25,000,000 a year.

EIGHT MILLION GALLONS OF WATER PER DAY OFFERED COUNTY

SEEK TO SELL RECLAIMED SEWAGE

Proposal of Three Cities Received by County Wate. Board

Two proposals to increase Orange county's water supply by use of reclaimed sewage water were reported yesterday afternoon to the board of directors of the Orange County Water district.

One was a tentative offer of the cities of Pasadena, South Pasadena, and Alhambra to deliver 8,400,000 gallons per day to this county at a cost of from $10 to $12 per acre foot. An acre foot is 325,829 gallons.

Reports Offer

The other was a report that the joint outfall sewer board of Orange county is considering hiring an outside engineer to survey the possibilities of sewage reclamation here.

C. Roy Browning, member of the water district board and engineer of the Irvine ranch, reported that Pasadena city officials had approached him on the sewage water proposal and had outlined a plan to build a pipeline to this county and make a charge for transporting the water. At present the reclaimed sewage water from the three cities is dumped into the Rio Hondo and is being used for irrigation by ranchers along that stream.

At present the water is rated at 90 per cent pure, but if arrangements were made with this county to use the water for irrigation, Pasadena would spend an additional $50,000 or more to increase the treating plant to make the water 100 per cent pure, Browning reported. Browning was asked to gather additional data to be submitted at a later meeting of the board.

It would be necessary for Orange county to provide winter storage for the water, it was pointed out.

To B. D. Stackenberg was awarded the work of discing up approximately 120 acres of settling ground along the Santa Ana river, to loosen silt deposited in water spreading activities of last year. The board provided that the cost should not exceed $300.

'Try and Collect'

William C. Mauerhan, member of the board, reported the county road department had asked $2 per day rental for a grader used by the district, but the board voted to reply in effect: "Collect if you can," on grounds no payment was asked when the equipment was borrowed.

The board decided to ask for lists of property assessments in the first, fifth and seventh sections of the district, where elections for directors will be held in February. Cost of a list will be less at this time when assessment and tax rolls are being prepared by the county, it was stated. Property owners in the districts have one vote for each $100 of assessed valuation.

GIANNINI IN NEW POST

HOLLYWOOD (AP).—Dr. A. H. Giannini, widely known banker, had been elected president and chairman of the board of United Artists corporation, movie distributing organization. Announcement of the election was made by United Artists.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT: From Hyde Park to the White House — No. 9

Probably no President of the United States ever faced a graver economic crisis than did President Roosevelt when he took the oath of office, March 4, 1933, before Chief Justice Hughes. Prices were at a new low level; more than 12,000,000 persons, it was estimated, were out of work; foreign trade was one-third of normal, and the national banking system near collapse.

One of his first official acts was to proclaim a national banking holiday, closing every financial depository in the nation for 10 days. The act saved the nation's financial structure, for at the close of the period some banks reopened immediately and others gradually or with restricted withdrawals.

President Roosevelt's advisors included his "brain trust," recruited mostly from university faculties and a few close political associates. Left to right are Raymond Moley, prominent "brain truster"; James A. "Big Jim" Farley, postmaster-general and national Democratic party chairman; President Roosevelt, and the late Louis McHenry Howe.

No recovery drive measure was more enthusiastically greeted than the NRA. An example of the enthusiasm was the 11-hour march of hundreds of thousands of workers following the Blue Eagle banner up Fifth avenue in the NRA day celebration in September, 1933. The picture shows the parade at 42nd street.

Probably more often than any other President has Roosevelt appeared before congress to read his own messages. In the early days of the session, there were tremendous majorities in congress for every measure recommended, but as the administration grew older, the frequency with which congress became recalcitrant or even rebellious increased.

Local History Told in Verse

(Believing that new interest will attach to early events in Orange county history through their presentation in verse, The Journal is publishing a series of poems by Robert Gardner of Orange, telling of these incidents.—Editor.)

LA HORCA (CHOKED CANYON)

The big corral was on the grassy flat,
A little way above the narrow gorge.
There Mr. Pleasants planned to change his horse
And hurry down to Anaheim and home.
A sudden glance when coming from the gorge
Informed him there were three men at the gate.
"Perhaps," he thought, "some neighbors hunting strays."

He trotted on to find out who they were.
The indications seemed a little strange,
For one man came to meet him with the words:
"Amigo! Friend!" An answer was returned,
But while the greeting still was on the air,
The strange man shot, a bullet tore his palm,
His left hand reached across to get his gun,
His aim was poor (he practiced not his left).
The horses reared and whirled, the seconds flew,
The bullets volleyed from each smoking gun,
A flying bullet struck him in his leg,
Another stopped below his shoulder blade,
And blood was coming from the horse's neck.
With bullets gone the bandits fled unhurt,
They disappeared like coyotes on the ridge,
And Pleasants could not load his gun again.

The ranch house was the nearest place for help.
He rode like mad, and there he found a man,
Who hurried like the wind to Anaheim.
A doctor came. The sheriff was informed.
A posse formed and started on the trail.
The ruthless convicts had too big a lead,
So they escaped to Mexico.

San Quentin was the place from which they came.
They tried to change their horses at the ranch,
For jaded animals are useless when
The law is sniffing on the open trail.
Escape or death was foremost in their minds,
And so they shot before they even asked
To trade their horses for some fresher mounts.

Note: This happened near the Pleasants ranch. This story was told to me by Mrs. Pleasants, March 6, 1936.

WILL OBSERVE RAIL WEEK IN S. A.

That railroad locomotive whistle-tooting next Monday won't be a train wreck or an earthquake.

At 8 a. m. on that day every railroad engine in the country will cut loose for one minute, announcing the beginning of the second annual railroad week.

Speakers who will address three service clubs on railroad topics are planned for the local observance, according to E. R. Gregory of the Santa Fe railroad, Orange county chairman of activities.

The week will be observed from July 13 to 18, inclusive, calling attention to railroads and showing their transportation advantages to prospective passengers and shippers, Gregory said.

The Santa Ana committee includes Gregory, as chairman; L. B. Valla, E. B. Sharpley, and M. J. Logue, Southern Pacific; C. D. Lindsey and P. W. Doane, Santa Fe; W. A. Shook, Union Pacific, and H. G. Lee, Railway Express.

Calavo Acreage Is Increased

A total of 407 acres of avocado groves owned by 153 growers has become affiliated with the Calavo Growers during the present season, up to July 1, it was announced today. This total is larger than that of last year, the Calavo announcement said.

Signup periods are held annually, but only at this season of the year, to make it possible to plan the following season's marketing program and to budget on a definite tonnage to be handled during the ensuing season, it was explained.

Seek Approval of Truck Line Sale

The Pacific Freight lines, which recently bought out the Richards Trucking and Warehouse company here, yesterday asked the interstate commerce commision at Washington, D. C., to approve its purchase of the truck line operating rights of C. B. McClain, Los Angeles, for $6000.

McClain's line runs between Los Angeles, Los Alamitos, Westminster, Wintersburg, Huntington Beach, Costa Mesa, Balboa and Laguna Beach.

Mayors to Meet In S. A. Tonight

Members of the mayors' council of the Orange county League of Municipalities, who form the executive board of the organization, will meet in the Green Cat cafe here at 6:30 p. m. today for their monthly business session, it was announced today.

Routine business is expected to be transacted at the meeting, officials said.

YOUNG PARKER SURRENDERS

MT. HOLLY, N. J., (AP)—Ellis Parker, jr., reunited with his family after three months in hiding, celebrated the second birthday of his only child, Katherine, today while New York authorities took steps to extradite him on a charge of kidnaping Paul H. Wendel.

Young Parker, a fugitive since his indictment by a Kings county (Brooklyn) grand jury, surrendered to his detective father, Ellis Parker, sr., and was released in $500 bail. He returned one day after Gov. Harold G. Hoffman refused to extradite the senior Parker on an indictment charging conspiracy in the same crime. The governor's action led to speculation that a similar refusal might answer attempts to remove young Parker to New York.

The 25-year-old fugitive refused to say where he had been hiding since he was indicted April 23 with Harry Bleefield, Murray Bleefield, Martin Schlossman and Harry Weiss, all of Brooklyn. They were charged with abducting Wendel, a disbarred Trenton lawyer, and forcing him to confess the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh, jr.

CANDIDATES AT MORNING MEET

The Breakfast club meeting this morning at the Main street cafeteria took on a political complexion. Some 15 candidates appeared to give reasons for the hope that was within them that they would be elected to office. All of them were willing to serve.

Some of them wanted the job and the monetary consideration attached to it, and frankly said so. Others were altruistically propelled, and others were motivated toward public preference by patriotic motives. They were accorded brief time to explain their position, and assessed for having such an ambition.

Sam Preble, J. A. Cranston, W. B. Martin, Walter Robb, Steele Finley and W. C. Jerome aspired to the position of supervisor of the first district; N. E. West and Ray Adkinson announced a more pretensious ambition and want to go to congress; Thomas L. McFadden, Bryan Bostwick, Dr. C. G. Huston, Harry Westover and Joseph Smith will be content if they can get to the state senate, while R. E. Crowley and Jimmy Utt will be satisfied to go to the assembly. James Tuffree has lived in the county so long he wants to represent the third supervisorial district.

The Wayne Huffman orchestra furnished the instrumental music, and Lucile KirtzMiller gave an Hawaiian dance.

Family Returns After Tragedy

The C. W. Williams family, involved in a tragic automobile accident several weeks ago in Texas, in which a small daughter and Mrs. Williams' father, D. J. Sawyer, were killed, has returned to Santa Ana and is living for the present with Mrs. Sawyer at 1120 West Fifth street.

Ten-year-old Robert came home a week ago with a driver in a new car being delivered for Mr. Williams. His mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sawyer, made the trip by train, the latter in a cast, suffering with a fractured pelvis; and Mr. Williams came through in another new car with a driver, taking the wheel for part of the way in spite of a fractured right arm.

PICK MURRAY AS AVOCADO LEADER

Is Chosen Vice-President In State Organization Of Growers

Owen A. Murray, Santa Ana, has been elected vice president of the California Avocado association, it was announced today. The association is an educational and cultural organization.

Murray was program chairman for the recent annual meeting of the association at the Ebell clubhouse here.

Carter Barrett of Los Angeles county was named president of the association, succeeding A. W. Christie of East Whittier.

Murray has been orchard superintendent on the Irvine ranch for a number of years, where there are large plantings of citrus, avocado and walnut trees. He has always been an active supporter of cooperative marketing.

He has established a laboratory on the ranch for the purpose of promoting progressive developments in horticultural practice.

He is a past master of Silver Cord Masonic lodge.

Germany Beheads Two Murderers

TRIER, Germany, (AP)—Two persons were beheaded today and one was sentenced to life imprisonment on murder charges.

Apollonia Schu, 51, was executed for the killing of the three illegitimate children of her daughter, Anna. The death sentence pronounced on the daughter, who is 25, was commuted to life imprisonment.

Josef Breuer, 19, was beheaded after conviction on a charge of murdering and robbing his grandmother.

STRIKES OUTLAWED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Strikes in Los Angeles county vegetable fields are outlawed for a year under a new agreement signed by Mexican union workers and Japanese growers.

20 Rebekah Officers Seated

The spirit of friendliness and cordiality that is always present in Rebekah lodges was outstandingly demonstrated last night when Mrs. Nora Edwards, district deputy president, and her staff of 22 Orange lodge members conducted semi-annual, open installation of new officers for Torosa Rebekah lodge, in I. O. O. F. hall.

Net over taffeta pastel gowns, worn by the installing staff, made especially attractive the ceremony that took place against a background of flowers and lodge insignia.

Mrs. Ethel Brown, who succeeded Mrs. Eleanor Pickel as noble grand, announced appointment of a corps of 13 officers to serve with her. They assumed duties in the same ceremonies marking installation of the lodge's six elective officers.

Those installed in official capacity were Mesdames Eleanor Pickel, junior past noble grand; Ethel Brown, noble grand; Minnie Tucker, vice-grand; Blanche Chandler, financial secretary; Emma Cochems, treasurer; Martha van de Walker, recording secretary; Maude Swarthout, trustee; Irene Lancaster, warden; Gladys McDonald, conductress; Ida Paul, musician; Fanny M. Lacy, chaplain; Ada Spencer, R. S. N. G.; Lucille Rathbone, L. S. N. G.; Maude Lentz, R. V. G.; Laura Tramel, L. V. G.; Leota Allen, inside guard; Maude Swarthout, outside guard; Laura Keseman, R. A. S.; Martha McKee, L. A. S.; and Herbert Allen, drill master.

Mrs. Pickel and Mrs. Brown were presented with gifts by lodge members. Mrs. Edwards, her marshal, Mrs. Eva Harris and members of the installing staff also received gifts.

Among official visitors were George Noonan, district deputy grand patriarch, and Henry Mange, grand encampment officer. Refreshments were served at close of the ceremonies by a committee headed by Mrs. Pickel.

TWO RECENT BRIDES FETED AT STUDIO

To honor Mrs. William J. Mohler (Emma William) and Mrs. Warren Bramley (Joy Lee Henderson), both recent brides, Mrs. Nelson Visel and Mrs. Carl Lykke entertained Tuesday evening at a postnuptial party in the Visel-Haughton studios. Both honored guests are former pupils of Mrs. Visel.

During an informal program hour, Miss Helen Waer sang two lovely solos, and Miss Margaret Davies another interesting group. Mrs. Harland Shennum (Vivian Rogers), a former member of the studio staff who recently returned from Potsdam, N. Y., to spend the summer in Santa Ana, gave a musical reading; and Mrs. Visel sang two solo numbers accompanied by Mrs. Bramley.

The wedding motif prevailed in appointments and in the refreshments, Miss Dorothy Mayhew being responsible for the decorations.

Guests at the affair were Mrs. Gene Edwards, Mrs. George Daws of Anaheim, Mrs. Harland Shennum, Miss Helen Waer, Miss Irene McIntee, Miss Georgia Williams, Miss Ruth Switzler, Miss Margaret Davies, Miss Lois Newbold, Mrs. Ella Faupel, and the two guests of honor and two hostesses.

SEWING DAY FOR THURSDAY CLUB AT PARK HOME

Gathering to sew for the afternoon, members of Mrs. Don R. Park's sewing and bridge club met today at her home at 613 South Garnsey street.

The afternoon was spent informally, concluding with a dainty refreshment course served by the hostess at the close of the day.

Members of the club are the Mesdames Chester Horton, Edward Lee Russell, Mervin Bryte, Roscoe Conklin, John T. Taylor, Newell Moore, Sheldon Russell, James Workman, John Ebersole, Aubrey Glines, Harold Morrow, Gary Bennett and the hostess. Mrs. Bennett is from Long Beach.

TO HEAR MUSIC UNDER STARS

Hollywood Bowl and its "symphonies under the stars" are attracting much interest among music lovers of the Southland this week, among them a number of Santa Ana groups who are attending the opening concerts of the 1936 season.

Making up a foursome this evening will be Dr. M. K. Tedstrom and Mrs. Tedstrom of 1548 West Washington, Santa Ana, and Mrs. H. O. Phillips and Mrs. Robert Easton of Anaheim.

SHIRTWAIST FROCKS ARE CHIC

Cocoa brown triple sheer silk makes this spectator sports model, typical of a trend which is a big favorite just now. It is finished with a small "schoolgirl" collar, a tailored belt of the same material and glass buttons. The big white Breton hat worn with it is bound with cocoa brown ribbon of the same shade. The bracelet is of wood.

JAYSEE WRITERS' WORK APPEARS IN PRINT

Packed with poetry and prose written by Santa Ana Junior college students, 350 copies of the Tavern Post, semi-annual college literary publication, went into the mails yesterday.

Published once each semester by the Tavern Tattlers, student literary organization, the volume takes its name from a verse of Keats' poetry, quoted on the flyleaf:

"Souls of poets dead and gone,
What Elysium have ye known,
Happy fields or mossy cavern,
Choiser than the Mermaid Tavern?"

Edited by Frances Louise Was, the 57-page edition contains 38 poems and prose selections contributed by 23 junior collegians. Vic Rowland served as business manager; Ruth Warner, Joseph Langland, Lois Pranke and Stanley Wilson, associate editors; T. H. Glenn, faculty adviser, and Thomas E. Williams, printing director.

ENTERTAINS AT SUMMER HOME

Miss Dorothy Decker, teacher in Santa Ana Junior college, and who is spending the summer in her Laguna Beach cottage, has entertained several groups of friends at a series of house parties during the vacation.

Miss Lena Thomas, president of the Business and Professional Women's club of this city, has been a guest in the cottage for several days, and on Tuesday evening Miss Decker asked several other friends in for supper. Among these guests were the Misses Alma Karlssen, Damaris Beeman, Kathryn Larmore, and Marie Fowler, who were joined later in the evening by the Misses Genevieve and Dorothy Humiston. The two latter are staying at the Humiston cottage at the beach.

Guests at another supper last evening were Mrs. Hazel Northcross and the Misses Martha Whitson and Marie Fowler, the latter remaining for a week and commuting to Santa Ana and her position at Rankin's store.

HOUSE PARTY AT FOREST HOME

Mrs. Maud Swarthout of 706 South Main street has taken the Decker cabin at Forest Home for two weeks. Sharing it with her are her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carothers and two children.

Over the Fourth, Mrs. Swarthout was hostess at a house party, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout, and their daughter, Patricia, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown and two children, of Santa Ana, and Mrs. William Barnes of Orange joining the group for the jolly week-end.

MAYFLOWER CLUB PICNICKS IN IRVINE PARK

Mayflower club met out-of-doors this week, gathering Tuesday in Irvine park for a covered dish noon luncheon.

After luncheon, the club convened for a short business session, followed by bridge and sewing, and decided to meet next on Aug. 4 at the Edward Cochems home, 323 East Chestnut street. Mrs. Laura Sanborn will be cohostess.

Participating in the gathering Tuesday at the park were Mrs. F. W. Sanford and daughters, Dorothy and Joan; Mrs. Laura Sanborn, Mrs. Amelia Perkins, Mrs. Fannie Cunningham, Mrs. J. W. Parkinson and Peggy Louise, Mrs. Ann Springer, Mrs. Ray Ford, Mrs. Emma Cochems, Miss Jeanne and Miss Elinore Lawrence, Miss Patricia Flaherty, Miss Christine Hanson and Miss Mary Hoover.

MRS. PANKEY ENTERTAINS COREOPSIS

Opening her home to Coreopsis club, oldest social organization in Tustin, Mrs. J. H. Pankey entertained yesterday afternoon at her Lemon Heights home on skyline drive.

Asters, carnations and phlox from Mrs. Pankey's garden were attractively arranged in bouquets throughout rooms of the home. All members of the club were present, spending the afternoon in chatting and sewing.

Those present included Mesdames Norma Pieper, J. W. Doughty, Sara Mae Matthews, E. E. Smith, M. Hubbard, F. C. Silver, D. M. Forney, W. S. O'Harro, A. A. Alderman and Miss Ethel Alderman, Tustin; Mesdames Carl Furtsch, J. C. Rogers, C. E. Kohl and Nannie Myers, Santa Ana.

ILLINOIS GUEST AND SISTER IN MOUNTAINS

Mayor F. C. Rowland and Mrs. Rowland drove to Forest Home Tuesday evening, taking Mrs. Rowland's mother, Mrs. C. F. Crose, 418 West First street, and the latter's brother, Nele Nixon of Evanston, Ill., up to their cabin.

The Rowlands spent one night at the cabin, leaving Mrs. Crose and Mr. Nixon there for a month in the lovely mountain surroundings.

PICNIC MARKS BIRTHDAY

The birthday anniversary of H. H. Fairfield of 1111 North Bristol street was the occasion for a happy picnic gathering today out at Irvine park.

Participating in the celebration with him were Dr. Theodore Wheeler and Mrs. Wheeler of Los Angeles; Miss Mildred Traston, a friend from Boston, Mr. Fairfield's former home city, and who has been visiting at the Fairfield home; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Marks and family of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Fairfield.

Wellses Are Honored in Farewell

Their departure for a new home in La Jolla early next month formed the incentive for a surprise party given Tuesday night for Mr. and Mrs. William Wells at their home at 2218 Greenleaf.

Members of Mrs. Wells' club, all wives of telephone company employes, planned the surprise farewell courtesy, and they and their husbands made up the guest list for the affair.

A delightful climax of the evening, which was spent at the bridge tables, was presentation to Mrs. Wells of a beautiful Italian cutwork luncheon set as a gift from her fellow clubmembers.

After the bridge games, prizes were presented to Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pettitt and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Humble, and refreshments were served. Interesting little ice cream molds representing sections of chocolate logs were a feature of the course.

Those gathering to honor the Wellses were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tomblin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pettitt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Rossberg, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Humble, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, and Mr. and Mrs. George Watson.

The Wellses have made their home in Santa Ana for five years, Mrs. Wells being connected during that time with the local plant of the telephone company. He has recently been transferred to the La Jolla location, where he will assume his new duties Aug. 1, Mrs. Wells and their daughter, La Vonne, going with him to establish a new home in the southern beach town.

MRS. WACKER HOSTESS TODAY

Mrs. Marie Wacker of 1231 West Fourth street honored her club today at a dessert bridge party in her home, serving at the small tables which were centered with flowers in a bright orange hue. Other appointments bore out the same color as the prevailing theme.

Only members were present today to enjoy the pleasant afternoon of cards which followed refreshments. Place cards bore the names of Mrs. Thelma Burns and Mrs. Demaris Myers, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Eunice Sipple, Mrs. Billie Rowland, and Mrs. Thelma Craig, Anaheim; Mrs. Billie Wilson, Orange; Mrs. Katie Williams, Long Beach, and the hostess.

TO ENTERTAIN CLUB FRIDAY

Mrs. Anna James will entertain her contract bridge club Friday afternoon at her home at 204½ South Sycamore.

Luncheon is to be served at 12:30 o'clock at two small tables spread with yellow and white linens and centered with small bouquets of flowers in the same two colors.

Club members are Mrs. A. Bohlander, Mrs. A. Berry, Mrs. McVicar Smith, Mrs. Margaret Church, Mrs. A. N. Zerman, Mrs. Edith Snow, Mrs. James. Mrs. E. T. Mateer has been invited as a special guest.

SAN FRANCISCO VISITOR HERE

Miss Ruth Berg of San Francisco is a guest this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vorce, 1027 Hickory street.

Trips to the beaches and Los Angeles have marked her visit, and Tuesday evening Miss Betty Vorce, Miss Eleanor Wisner of Garden Grove, and Miss Berg enjoyed a horseback ride through the open country surrounding Santa Ana.

Miss Berg plans to return some time next week to San Francisco, where she was graduated this spring from the San Francisco State Teachers' college.

ENDS VISIT WITH HER SON

Mrs. W. A. Taylor of 2410 Bonnie Brae street returned home last night from Alhambra where she has been with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor, and her new grandson, Kenneth Wesley Taylor.

The baby was born last month, and Mrs. W. A. Taylor has spent most of the intervening weeks with her son's family, which also includes a small daughter.

FORM RULES FOR FLOWER SHOW

With Mrs. J. T. Wilson presiding, members of the listing committee of the Orange county fall flower show met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Paul, Main street, Tustin.

Rules and regulations to govern the show were drawn up. Representatives from each town having flower exhibits were present.

Guests From Michigan Honored

A group of Michigan visitors this summer in Santa Ana were honored guests last Sunday at a family dinner gathering at the home of Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain, 429 Amerige street, Fullerton.

Sharing the honors were Mrs. Lela Huffer of Detroit, Mich., who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. Vance, 420 West First street, Santa Ana, since May, and Mrs. Charles Mack and three children, Virginia, Mildred and Mervyn, also of Detroit, who arrived more recently for a visit. Mildred and Mervyn are twins.

The five visitors had spent the week before the Fourth with Dr. Tremain, who is Mrs. Vance's daughter, and the Sunday party was planned especially for them.

Others participating in the reunion were the hostess' brother, Dr. A. T. Vance, and Mrs. Vance, and Dr. George T. Reeve of the Los Angeles general hospital, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. Estelle Summers and daughter, Helen, of Glendale; C. C. Delaporte of Oconto, Wis.; Mrs. Vance of this city, and Dr. Reeves' brother, Jack. The two latter are nephews of Mrs. Vance.

After a week in Long Beach, the Detroit people will motor home by way of Seattle and the northern ways.

WEDDING AND ANNIVERSARIES ON SAME DAY

Choosing the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Currie, sr., and the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, as their wedding day, Miss Edith Schrepel of Fullerton and William S. Currie, jr., of Costa Mesa, were married at 8:30 a. m. Sunday at the Fullerton Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. David Brigham of Placentia performed the ceremony.

In the afternoon the two older generations of Curries celebrated their silver and golden anniversaries at their Costa Mesa homes.

Miss Iva Schrepel was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the Misses Virginia Depweg and Mary Phillipa Currie. Robert Patrick was the best man, and William Dunn and Charles Webster were ushers.

After a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Currie, jr., will make their home in Costa Mesa.

TRAVEL NORTH BEFORE RETURN TO MAZATLAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Davis of Mazatlan, Mexico, who have been visiting the latter's brother, L. A. Dickey, and family, at 2414 French street, this summer, will leave Friday for San Francisco on an Admiral line steamship, planning to go from there to Oregon and Washington and back by automobile.

When they return to the Bay city, they will take the Grace liner, Santa Elena, for the homeward trip to Mazatlan, where Mr. Davis is employed by the government. The visitors planned their trip with H. Louis Hansen and the World Travel bureau.

INVITATIONS TO KAPPA DELTAS

Kappa Delta sorority members who compose the Orange county alumna group have received invitations for a day in the mountains on Wednesday, July 22, when they will be guests of Catherine Wright, alumna supervisor, at her summer cabin.

Regular meetings of the county group have been suspended until September, when the members will organize again for monthly sessions.

Santa Ana alumna of the national college sorority include Mrs. Willard Bassett, Mrs. Henry Hodges and Miss Mabel Pruitt.

BRIGANTES OFF TO HONOLULU

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brigante of 2203 Greenleaf street are leaving Friday for Honolulu on the S. S. Malola, planning to include in their visit a two-day airplane trip over the islands to view the volcanoes, plantations and other points of interest. They will return on the S. S. Lurline after a two-week vacation.

NEW BABY AT GRAY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. William O. Gray of 1531 West Ninth street are the parents of a baby girl born at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Joseph hospital. The little girl weighed eight and one-quarter pounds at birth, and has been named Betty Ruth.

Mary Stoddard

This Wife Waits for Love of Indifferent Husband Involved With Another Girl

By MARY STODDARD

A woman has concealed her broken heart exceedingly well 'neath a mask of pride—so well, in fact that even the immediate relatives do not know of her husband's unfaithfulness.

There is another woman. The husband has grown indifferent to his wife and children. Even though she knows of his affair, she loves him and would keep their marriage vow intact.

She misses the love she is being cheated out of . Shall she have a talk with her husband? Surely, if she did in a frank, kindly manner, it could make matters no worst than they are. She also seeks our readers' opinions.

Dear Miss Stoddard: For six long months my husband has shown me no affection beyond the customary "good-bye," "hello" (when and if he comes for supper) and "goodnight" kiss. I have tried to content myself with waiting for him to come back to me, but it is getting to be a long, weary wait.

I have begun to wonder if I should speak to him about his attitude?

He has never been lavish with his endearments and affection, but I do miss the few he did give. His mind simply is not with the children and me when he is at home. There are four of them. I keep them, myself and home neat and clean. They adore him and he provides well for us.

He is seldom cross or impatient and does not drink, gamble or use foul language.

I know positively he has a mistress. I have met her. She seems to be a sweet, clean girl. She would have to be to be loved by him, as he is absolutely physically clean though he has fallen morally,

It may be lunacy, Miss Stoddard, but I love him so that just a few crumbs of the old love would make it easier to share him with her.

This is the first time I have ever admitted the situation to anyone. His folks and mine have both questioned me, as they suspect the situation. I have tried and believe I have succeeded in acting as though nothing is amiss, but he spends so little time at home they are beginning to wonder.

I'll never admit it to them. I shrivel at the thought, and I won't have anyone speak ill of him. However, I will take your advice calmly. I'm so afraid I'll lose control of myself if I speak to him and may cause him to walk out.

He is my whole life and world. If he left entirely I'd have to keep up for the children, but I'd only exist, not live.

Is it false pride on my part? Lunacy? Spinelessness? Please tell me.

I am somewhat reserved, so I believe I have not tired him with demonstrations of my love for him through our 12 years of married life. I am not jealous—have never been, as I do not believe it and true love go together. Perhaps some of your readers might have constructive suggestions as to how I should handle this puzzling problem. Can you make sense of this? I've written it as it comes to my mind which is so

TROUBLED.

Alumni of College To Wed

Of interest in Santa Ana Junior college alumni circles is one of the summer's approaching weddings which will unite in marriage a popular Newport Heights couple.

Betrothal of the pair, Miss Vivian E. Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Russell of Newport Heights, and Edward C. O. Meador of the same town, was announced last week by the bride's parents, and the wedding is to take place some time late this summer.

Both the bride-elect and the bridegroom-to-be have many friends in Santa Ana, where they attended and took an active part in the junior college. Mr. Meador, who was graduated from the college, was president of the Junior Lions club while on the campus and a member of the engineers' club, and Miss Russell was a prominent member of Las Gitanas club. The latter is a graduate of Harbor High school and at one time attended Los Angeles Junior college.

At the present time Miss Russell is employed in the office of Donald Beach Kirby, architect, on Balboa island. Her fiance is in the printing department of the Newport Harbor Publishing company. The latter makes his home with his aunt, Miss Alice C. Plumer, in Newport Heights.

PARK PICNIC, LAWN SOCIAL SCHEDULED

An old-fashioned ice cream social and a picnic in Anaheim park were planned as events for this month, when members of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church Ladies' Aid society met at the church.

July 15 was set as date of the picnic, to be held at noon in Anaheim park, with members of all the circles of the society participating.

Circle No. 1 will sponsor the ice cream social. Mrs. Anna Hasenyager offered the lawn of her home, 622 Eastwood street, as an attractive setting for the affair. It will be held from 5 to 9 p. m., July 19.

"In the Land That Is Not Ours," the missionary lesson for the day, was read by Mrs. Frank Schmidt. Mrs. Guy Koons led the discussion that followed.

Duets were sung by Margaret Fields and Anita Morton, Maida Fay and Valda Mae Johnson. Mrs. Jacob Bergsetter, president, conducted the meeting. Mesdames Anna and Frieda Hasenyager served as hostesses.

MRS. LIGGETT WILL ENTERTAIN CLUB TONIGHT

Coral-hued hybiscus blossoms floating in a low ivory bowl, arranged to resemble a pool of water lilies, will form the centerpiece for the pretty table at which Mrs. D. E. Liggett will entertain four members of her bridge club and an extra foursome of guests this evening in her home at 2323 Bonnie Brae.

Invited to share the evening with the club group and take the places of four absentee members are Mrs. J. C. Sexton, Miss Louise Kaiser, Mrs. Paul Holland and Mrs. John Vernon.

Club members who will be present are Mrs. Ray Wolven, Mrs. Herbert Alleman, Mrs. Jesse Elliott and the hostess.

Following a dessert course, served at one large table, the guests will repair to the bridge tables set in a flower-decked living room and will devote the remainder of the evening to cards.

DORCAS PICNIC TOMORROW

Anaheim city park will be substituted tomorrow afternoon for their customary meeting place by members of the Dorcas society of the First Methodist church.

Bringing their children, members of the society will assemble in the park at 12:30 o'clock for a potluck covered dish luncheon. Each woman is to furnish sandwiches, table service and a covered dish.

Walt Disney, Mickey Mouse creator, has one dark secret: he never reveals the identity of the "voices" behind his animated cartoon characters.

School Head of Hawaii Coming

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley of 2800 North Flower street are anticipating a visit next Tuesday from their son-in-law, O. W. Robinson, who is assistant superintendent of schools in the Hawaiian islands.

Mr. Robinson, who has been a resident of Hawaii for about 10 years, has been in Oregon, attending the N. E. A. convention, and plans to stop here for a short visit on his way home. At present, he is with his relatives in Fresno and Oakland.

Mrs. Robinson, daughter of the Smileys, and who visited them three years ago, did not accompany Mr. Robinson this summer.

LEPPERS GIVE HOLIDAY PARTY

Among parties marking the holidays for Santa Anans was a dinner bridge affair at which Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lepper entertained members of their club at their home, 2208 Maple avenue, during the past week-end.

The Fourth of July motif was carried out in appointments for the small tables at which dinner was served and at which places were marked for the following:

Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Mitchell, Leland Ewbank, Harry Drown, and Mrs. Pearl Watson of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gill of La Habra, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard White of Cypress, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terrell of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carse of Artesia, all members of the club; Mrs. R. J. Lepper and Miss Ruth Lepper of Rancho Santa Fe, house guests of the Leppers, and the host and hostess.

Adding of bridge scores gave high awards to Mrs. Terrell and Mr. Mitchell, and low to Mrs. Drown and Mr. Ewbank.

The next meeting of the club will be on July 25 at the home of Mrs. Gill in La Habra.

Card tables will be set tomorrow afternoon in the pleasant garden at the home of Mrs. R. H. Sandon, 1410 West Washington avenue, when members of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary sponsor their first public garden party.

Contract and auction bridge play will begin at 2 o'clock. Refreshments are to be served later in the afternoon by the junior girls.

Mrs. David M. Jellis, advisor for the youthful unit, and Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mrs. Robert H. Sandon and Mrs. Bert Casteix will assist officers of the organization in making arrangements.

PLAN STEAK BAKE FOR G. S. R. N. A.

Steaks will sizzle over freshly made fires when members of Golden State parlor, Royal Neighbors of America, assemble with their friends in Irvine park for a picnic supper and outing.

Plans for the affair, to be held at 7 p. m., July 22, were made last night during regular meeting of the organization in K. of C. hall. Members are to bring table service, covered dishes and steaks. Coffee will be furnished by the lodge.

Miss Trena Johnson was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the first August meeting, following the steak-bake. Refreshments were served at close of the business session last night by Mrs. Ruth Luman and her committee.

Birthday Is Marked By Surprise

Today's birthday anniversary of Mrs. Lloyd H. Banks was the occasion for an advance celebration last night when 22 of her Santa Ana friends surprised her at her summer beach home at Balboa.

Arriving armed with bridge tables and cards, and refreshments for a later hour, the group spent the evening playing cards, giving prizes at the close to Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Dennis, high, and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ball, low.

The group as a whole presented a birthday gift to Mrs. Banks and surprised her with a birthday cake with the refreshment course.

Participating in the celebration with the honored guest were her husband, Mr. Banks, and her mother, Mrs. Mae Manatt; Messrs. and Mesdames J. F. Jacoby, T. S. Hunter, Courtney Chandler, Don Edwards, Harry LeBard, Ray Montgomery, Paul Eby, Carlyle Dennis, M. W. Ball, and Martin Keeler, and Mr. O. F. Turner.

Best Diet Is Common Sense

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

As one looks back over the various diet fads of the last 25 years, we wonder if we are really rational human beings or just plain sheep, ready to follow the leader.

It is conceded that most of us eat too much. We eat too fast and do not chew our food enough to mix it well with the saliva of the mouth.

Each person in reasonably good health and intelligence can decide what is good for him. As years have passed we have been continually bombarded with someone's theory of what and how to eat to keep us strong and well, our skins and eyes clear, our muscles strong, our brains active.

Some flourished for quite a while like a green bay tree and then faded away. Fortunately our digestive apparatus stands a lot of abuse. All of these diet programs had a reasonable basis of truth and probably that explains why we grab them up.

Dr. Horace Fletcher taught, by lecture and writing, that prolonged mastication was the cure for all evils. We followed some of his precepts. Certain kinds of food would not become liquid and consequently soft foods were accepted for the diet. Since they produced certain uncomfortable conditions, someone conceived that roughage was the cure for all our ills. Soon an increasing number of stomach and bowel ailments due to too much roughage appeared. It was just a case of a little doing a little good but too much doing much harm.

Now came the vegetarian. Of course, some of them had been with us for a long time, but they came out stronger than ever. All flesh was poison. Even milk and eggs were taboo. Indeed some said that large quantities of these articles developed the brains and mentality of a cow.

Then we saw the proponent of raw foods, who ate fruit and vegetables in the raw state. We have had those who insisted that one meal a day was enough. We could live on one-third of the amount we were eating, they said.

DE MOLAY DANCE IS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Carnations in four colors formed corsages and boutonnieres for De Molays and their ladies from four towns of the county last night at the first big social event in which the Anaheim, Santa Ana, Fullerton and Huntington Beach chapters of the organization have joined forces.

One hundred couples attended the dance at the Huntington Beach Memorial hall. As they arrived, they were presented with the flowers in the colors chosen for their towns—Anaheim guests receiving white carnations, Santa Ana pink, Fullerton red and Huntington Beach yellow.

Besides the dancing, which was accompanied by the orchestra of Loren Wagner and Onie Saunders, Santa Ana De Molays, several novelty ideas were introduced, featuring presentation of prizes. Miss Mary Jane Macgillivray and Clyde Files, both of Santa Ana, received first prizes, the former a gold plated bracelet and Mr. Files a gold plated tie set, gifts of the four chapters; and Miss Dorothy Reyer and Gerald Stauffer, also of this city, received the second prize, a two-pound box of candy from the advisory council.

A special guest of the evening was the master councilor of Riverside chapter, who had come over on matters pertaining to the Southern California De Molay conclave to be held July 24, 25 and 26 at Riverside Mission Inn.

To each of the host chapters was assigned one part of the arrangements for the dance, Anaheim taking care of the punch, Santa Ana the orchestra, Fullerton the flowers, decorations and prizes, and Huntington Beach the hall.

Advisors of the four chapters and their wives were patrons and patronesses for the affair, including Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler of Santa Ana and the heads of the other three councils.

This is the first big project the four chapters have attempted as a unit, and plans are now going forward for beach parties during the summer months and possibly another dance in the fall, with the four groups participating.

Volcanology is taught at the University of Hawaii summer sessions, there being several active craters in the island group.

News of Your Family and Friends Is Important. The Journal Welcomes It. Telephone 3600

Miss Irene Schroeder, bookkeeper at Hart's drygoods store, is enjoying a week's vacation in the mountains near Lake Arrowhead.

W. S. Collins, formerly of Santa Ana and alboa, left recently for a short visit in Chicago, traveling by T. W. Airways.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wright of 904 Lacy street and Miss Merle Hayes will have a week's round trip to San Francisco on the S. S. Ruth Alexander.

Miss Barbara Cornwell of La Jolla returned home this week with her grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Smart, and will be a guest at her home, 1533 East Fourth street, for several weeks. Mrs. Smart had spent the Fourth in the southern beach town with Barbara and her mother, Mrs. Gay Cornwell, a daughter of the former.

A. W. Rimel of 931 South Ross street and his daughter, Ruth, were expected home today or Friday from Oregon, where they have been recuperating from injuries sustained in an automobile accident 10 days ago. Mrs. Rimel, who was quite seriously injured, will remain at the Salem, Ore., general hospital until she is able to travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthys of 1239 South Broadway drove to San Pedro today to meet the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Agin, who were arriving on the S. S. Malola from Hawaii, for a 90-day vacation. They intend to spend some time in Pomona with a sister of Mrs. Agin, Mrs. W. G. Key, and in Santa Ana with the Matthys family, and then go east for a visit. Agin is in the construction business in Honolulu and Mrs. Agin is in government employ at Pearl Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Lindow and three children of Charleston, W. Va., will be guests in the home of Mrs. Lindow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Simmons, 1506 West Second street, for a month this summer, planning also to visit a sister in San Diego.

Miss Agnes Martin of 103 East Eleventh street will leave Saturday for a 17-day trip to Panama on the United Fruit liner, the S. S. Chiriqui.

Mrs. Damia Loptien of 902 Orange avenue, with her sons, Leo and Leonard, and a friend of the boys, Glenn Gardner, spent the week-end at Camp Baldy.

Mrs. Josephine Haley of Los Angeles, who is a daughter-in-law of O. A. Haley of Santa Ana, will sail July 10 for Honolulu on board the S. S. Malola, planning to remain indefinitely in the Hawaiian islands.

B. D. Stanley of Orange left July 3 by the S. S. H. F. Alexander for Seattle and a three-week vacation.

Mrs. William Strange of 1715 West Seventeenth street left July 1 for New York City over the Transcontinental Western Airways.

The Asa Hoffmans of 1012 North Broadway entertained as house guests over the week-end at their cabin on South Fork, their daughter, Mrs. Edwin Goebe, and Mr. Goebe, of the Colonial apartments, Mr. Hoffman's brother, Frank Hoffman, and Mrs. Hoffman of McFadden street, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kloess of 809 South Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carnahan of 610 East Chestnut street spent the week-end in King City and Taft, Mrs. Carnahan remaining in the latter town for a visit of several weeks with her mother. Mr. Carnahan returned to Santa Ana the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rowland of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maxwell of Fullerton, Miss Adaruth Ellis, Miss Gladys Margurate, Larry Lane and Merton Butler of Santa Ana, spent the past week-end holidays at Laguna Beach in the H. H. Clayton cottage on Magnolia drive.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lepper of 2208 Maple avenue had as their guests over the Fourth Mrs. R. J. Lepper and Miss Ruth Lepper, of Rancho Santa Fe, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lepper and three children, Nada Lee, Robert Earl, and Gordon, of Taft. The W. G. Leppers went up north the first of the week, but returned late yesterday to continue their visit. Mrs. R. J. Lepper and her daughter have returned to their ranch home near San Diego.

Mrs. Omar Carillo and two children, Roual and Renee, of 1325 South Birch street and the former's sister, Miss Carmen Rivas have returned from a vacation spent at a lake in the San Diego mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams, daughter Betty and son Kearney, Orange, will leave Friday for Yosemite, where they will spend two weeks. Accompanying them will be Miss Eileen Faerber, Orange.

Guests of Mrs. J. L. Beach, Orange, are Mr. and Mrs. Roland P. Bush and sons Robert and Roland, Brooklyn, N. Y. They arrived Wednesday.

Miss Florence Liggett is expected home tonight from Redlands, where she has been the guest for a week at the home of Miss Mary Nickerson, her roommate at Pomona college last year.

It's Time to Can Berries

By JUDITH WILSON

You may not own a garden. You may not wish to buy a lot of fruit for canning or you may not have a place for storing the jars and jelly glasses. Yet every woman is missing something if she doesn't put up at least a few glasses of jelly or jam now that the fruit and berry season is at its height.

Here is a good recipe for currant jelly:

Currant Jelly

Pick over and wash 2 quarts red currants (do not bother to remove the stems). Add 2½ cups water, cover tightly and boil until the skins pop. Turn into a jelly bag, and press gently until all of the juice has been extracted. Some fine particles of the fruit pulp will come through but not enough to spoil the clear, sparkling red of the jelly. Measure and allow ⅔ cup sugar for each cup of juice. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then boil rapidly, testing occasionally, until the jelly flows from a spoon.

This test may puzzle the beginner until she actually sees it—the jelly falls from the spoon in a thin sheet and breaks off at the edge of the spoon as it cools in the air. Skim away any foam on top of the jelly and pour into sterilized glasses. While still hot, spoon a small amount of melted paraffin over the jelly. Let cool, then add a second layer of paraffin before covering the glasses and storing.

MRS. E. SMITH HOSTESS TO ARMESES CLUB

Getting together to play cards while their husbands attended Sciots meeting, members of Armeses club assembled last night at the home of Mrs. Ray Graham, 1109 West Pine street.

Mrs. Charles F. Mitchell and Mrs. C. A. Rousseau received score awards for high and low score. The hostess served a buffet supper for members and their husbands, who arrived at the Graham residence following lodge.

In the group were Messrs. and Mesdames Glen Lycan, Elmer Smith, Charles Ryan, C. A. Rousseau, Charles Mitchell, C. E. Morse and Ray Graham.

Next meeting of the club, in the form of a pot-luck supper, will be held August 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, 1412 West Sixth street.

SANTA ANANS, GUEST GO NORTH

Planning to visit Hiram Halsel, former Santa Ana resident, at his present home in Visalia, his son, Charles Halsel, left yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Halsel and a cousin, Miss Shirley Ann Obarr.

Miss Obarr, for the past three weeks a guest of her grandmother, Mrs. A. A. Jones, will return to her home in Lindsey. She plans to attend Fresno state college in the fall. Her mother, the former Miss Maude Jones, taught in a Santa Ana Junior college for five years before her marriage.

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

Over in Seville, Spain, police have just announced that they have frustrated an attempt to corner the Spanish egg market. They said they had discovered 3,500,000 eggs stored in a cave on the outskirts of the city.

Maybe they're going to have an election over in Spain. Suppose so?

We used to save up eggs and tomatoes, etc, over here too, for use at various occasions. But people in the audience don't egg the candidates on—or off—anymore. We just give a fellow from the other party a few minutes to speak. He takes care of things for us, but instead of using eggs, good old-fashioned mud is thrown.

Some people ain't worth throwing eggs at, and besides mud can be thrown back — eggs can't — which makes it more interesting for the audience.

Hope those eggs over in Spain haven't been stored too long — might break the chicken market.

Be Dainty In Summer

By JACQUELINE HUNT

How to keep cool and attractive on a stifling summer's day is a serious problem to all of us. But we've discovered that you can actually feel cool if you can manage to look that way.

The first requisite is the daily or twice daily bath. One essential to that cool, dainty look after your shower or tubbing is a good deodorant or anti-perspirant.

In areas where the air circulates freely, perspiration quickly disappears, but in areas like the armpits the fatty acids accumulate rapidly and give off extremely unpleasant odors. To solve the problem you have either a variety of deodorants or the preparations made to check perspiration.

The latter are safe to use on small areas since the pores of the skin are merely tightened, diverting the secretion to less restricted parts of the body.

None of the liquid anti-perspirants should be used immediately after shaving the underarms or using a depilatory.

There is a new deodorant ice on the market that both deodorizes and serves as a perspiration check. It is a light, creamy substance that is cooling and soothing to the skin.

Grain Market

CHICAGO. (AP)—Regaining leadership late today after being temporarily subordinated by corn, the wheat market soared about 2½ cents above early bottom levels.

Bulges of wheat values at Winnipeg were largely responsible for renewal of strength here. Authoritative estimates were current that 10 to 12 million acres of Canadian wheat were in grave danger from prolonged drought and heat, with a good part of this acreage already far gone.

Wheat closed nervous, ⅜-1⅝ above yesterday's finish; July, $1.06⅛-¼; September, $1.06-1.06¼; corn at ⅛ decline to ¼ advance; September, 78⅞-79; oats unchanged to ½ cent higher, and provisions varying from 2 cents setback to a rise of 10 cents.

Drought Hurts Us, Too

RECORD HEAT KILLS 72; NO RELIEF IN SIGHT; CROP LOSSES INCREASE; PRICES SKYROCKET AS MERCURY GOES UP

Headlines like these bring home the misfortune of the Midwest. But despite that, we are inclined in the face of dust storms, drought, and grasshopper plagues, merely to smile sympathetically and say: "Too bad. Those people have such hard luck."

We should remember that it's our hard luck, too. For what hurts one section of the country, hurts the whole. When food becomes scarce in Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska, it raises prices elsewhere.

And when people are driven from their Midwest homes by Nature's harshness, the coastbound caravan of homeless human wanderers increases. It is not only that many of those who come West under these circumstances are broke themselves, but that they are less able to support the indigents with taxes back in their own home states. And the result is that both the newly ruined and the perpetually penniless come to California.

This sort of immigration makes it, whether we like it or not, California's job to take care of the unfortunates. It really should be the government's job. Either the government should subsidize these people in their own home state, or it should make provisions for their care wherever they go. Otherwise such places as Southern California suffer an unfair burden.

We have only the greatest compassion for the drought sufferers. But caring for them should be a task for the United States as a whole—not simply for Southern California.

'A Lot of Hooey'

ANOTHER sign that American war veterans are getting tired of being exploited by demagogues like Hearst is this dispatch from Portland, Ore:

> Frank Miles, editor of the Iowa Legionnaire and personal representative of the American Legion's national commander, Ray Murphy, asserted at the National Education association convention today "much of this talk about teachers being reds is a lot of 'hooey'."
>
> Miles, predicting that the Legion would not support any measure requiring teachers to swear to oaths not to teach communism because it would be "one of the worst things we could do," observed:
>
> "Many of the forces hollering about a red scare are just as dangerous as the communists.
>
> "If the people who are always raising a red scare would stop talking and start working to eliminate our financial difficulties, we would see an end to the communist problem."

The men who served in the army in 1917-18 were the cream of American youth. They were not fools. And it is a good thing to see an American Legion spokesman rebuking those who try to exploit the veterans for their own selfish purposes.

Are Machine Guns Necessary?

THIS business of lugging a loaded machine gun into a courtroom—such as was done yesterday by a deputy sheriff at Fullerton—strikes us as going too far. Everybody knows that a machine gun is a weapon designed solely for mass murder. And there will be found very few people in Orange county who believe that mass murder is necessary to keep the peace during strike trials.

If trouble had started in that Fullerton courtroom, tear gas would have stopped it just as quickly and effectively as a mad burst of machine gun lead into the crowd. And there would have been no dead and wounded after it was over.

As for the supposed moral effect of a machine gun on strikers and agitators, we can see where it might excite—rather than intimidate—the men to blame for the violence in the groves. Such things have been known to happen.

We suggest that the machine guns be put back in the armory, and that the officers go about their business of protecting private life and property in the usual way.

Landon and Legislators

IT'S BEGINNING to look as if Governor Landon, too, knows a few tricks about managing legislatures. The Kansas house, at his request, promptly approved submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment enabling it "to pass laws providing for the necessary social security."

The action somehow reminds us of President Roosevelt and congress.

Of course, any executive can get his program okehed if the legislature is with him. That's easy.

But it is what he can do against a hostile legislature that counts in a pinch. If Landon wins in November, we may get to see a test. For although it is possible that the G. O. P. can carry the house of representatives, political experts say it cannot take the senate, becaues there won't be enough Democratic seats in jeopardy this coming election to upset the present majority.

Register—or Else!

AT LEAST 25 citizens out of every 100 in Orange county will not be permitted to vote at the August 25 primary election. But it will be their own fault. They will be those who fail to register by July 16.

You'd be sore if anyone else fixed it so you couldn't vote. You'd raise a howl to Heaven about your American rights.

So don't put yourself in this embarrassing position by neglecting to register.

NEW YORK.—Most of us a bit sartorial minded think we are letting ourselves go when we order a dozen ties and a dozen shirts at a crack. Or a couple of suits and overcoats in one shot. I've been acquiring some haberdashery and tailoring facts from unquestionable sources today.

One avenue haberdashery has three customers whose annual accounts seldom run under $20,000. One is a self made man and tne others are scions of wealth. They order silk underwear by three dozen lots, a half a dozen lounging robes at a smack, and six dozen monogrammed handkerchiefs.

There is one shirt customer who has a standing order for a dozen newest designs in shirting the first of each month. This has been in effect 11 years. A customer of a haberdashery in the 40's is a muffler hound. The books show that in five years he has purchased more than 400.

Many of the biggest exclusive tailoring orders are from out of town, notably San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, D. C. Hollywood oddly is little represented. A dozen suits and a half dozen overcoats at a time are not unusual for several tailors. The biggest order was for 50 suits for a groom in Wilmington, Del.

Dick Berlin, one of the foremost of the airplane passengers in mile coverage, has found a way of avoiding the discomforts of storms while flying. His doctor gives him sleeping pills for ordinary flying conditions but, when Berlin learns there is dirty weather ahead, instead of taking two pills, he downs four—knocking himself out completely. The other day he faced a bad squall between Albuquerque and Kansas City. He gulped a big dose. And everybody on the plane was telling him of the hours of fidgets when they hauled him out feet-up to change ships at Kansas City.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—The bitter strife now raging within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor boils down to two sources of conflict: vehement personal antipathy and jobs.

The abolition of craft unions means the abolition of lush jobs for many A. F. of L. executives. The craft union is the hand-me-down from the days of Samuel Gompers. It includes only one particular trade within an industry, as, for instance, only the carpenters in the building industry, or only the stereotypers in the printing industry. The industrial union includes all workers in a given industry, no matter what their individual trades may be.

Thus the industrial union can win a strike more successfully than a craft union, since it can call out all workers in a given industry. A craft union strike may affect only one group, such as the machinists in a certain factory, leaving all other workers on the job.

Leaders of the craft and industrial groups within the A. F. of L. dislike each other with all the bitterness some union leaders have against some employers—possibly more.

There is no great personal dislike between William Green and John L. Lewis, chief leaders of the two warring factions. Green is a miner, probably could not be re-elected president of the A. F. of L. unless Lewis gives him a delegate's certificate to the next convention. Green is merely a pawn in the game, the mouthpiece for craft union generalissimos.

Here are some of the potent personailties who, behind the scenes, dominate Green:

* * *

CRAFT UNION LEADERS

William S. Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, 200,000 members, second to miners as largest affiliate of A. F. of L. Age 62, with 280 pounds of bulk and fat, Hutcheson is a bulldozer, the veteran of many fist fights and the man whom Lewis floored during the 1935 A. F. of L. convention.

An Old Guard Republican, Hutcheson coveted the post of secretary of labor which Harding gave Puddler Jim Davis, hopes to get the job this year if Landon is elected. Hutcheson's salary for many years was $25,000, is believed to be that today.

Arthur Orlando Wharton, president of the International Association of Machinists, 92,500 members. Age 62, last recorded salary $7500, short, aggressive, not-afraid-of-God-or-devil type, in conferences can't be shaken from preconceived ideas. Wharton is the ablest of craft unionists. He keeps in the background, but is most uncompromising foe of industrial unionists on the A. F. of L. executive council. Friends of Green suspect Wharton of having designs on Green's job.

Daniel Joseph Tobin, president, International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, 137,000 members. Age 61, salary reputed to be $25,000, short, beefy, two-fisted Irishman, a miniature Hutcheson in pugnacity and vehemence. But they differ in politics, Tobin being an ardent Democrat. He resigned from the executive council in 1928 because it would not indorse Al Smith, and had a hard time getting reinstated. Green was among those who opposed him. In 1932 Tobin headed Roosevelt's labor campaign committee, and was greatly disappointed when Miss Perkins got the job of secretary of labor.

* * *

REBEL INDUSTRIALISTS

Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, nearly 200,000 members. Age 49, slender, dynamic, thick-lipped, square-jawed, Hillman was born in Lithuania, educated to be a rabbi, migrated to this country at the age of 20. After three years in Chicago he led the great garment workers' strike which won the right of collective bargaining. His union is one of the most advanced in the country, operating its own bank, cooperative housing project and unemployment insurance. Hillman has introduced a unique labor relation system, whereby the union virtually runs the factory and shows the employer how he can reduce operating costs. Hillman is high in the labor councils of Roosevelt and was an executive in the NRA.

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers, 160,000 members. Age, 44, born in Russian Poland, Dubinsky went to work at the age of 9, and when 17 was expelled to Siberia for leading a bakers' strike. He escaped after five months and came to the United States. He is a Socialist, but has announced he will support Roosevelt.

Phillip Murray, vice president United Mine Workers, salary $9000 a year (refused increase to $12,000). Came to United States at 16 from Scotland, where his father was a miner and union organizer. Murray studies the coal operators' business as if he worked for them—sales, marketing, etc. He organized southern miners for the first time. Red-faced, slow eyes, guarded speech, never uses two words where one will do, former soccer player in Pennsylvania.

Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer United Mine Workers, $9,000 (refused raise). Started as breaker boy at 12 picking slate out of anthracite. Precocious student of social welfare and social security, member of American Academy of Political and Social Sciences, can hold his own with any pundit in the academy. Elected lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, avoids Harrisburg society, hangs around cigar stores.

* * *

FIELD MARSHALS

John L. Lewis, president United Mine Workers—roan mane, shaggy brows, small mouth, fiery hazel eyes, 255 pounds. Speaks with extreme care but great force—a caged volcano. Born 1880, worked in mines in Iowa and Illinois for 15 or 20 years, than wandered all over the country. Public school education, but has studied all his life; still reads economic subjects omnivorously, his only pastime, with an occasional mystery yarn. Abroad twice, once with Mrs. Lewis for "pleasure," but devoted his trip to conferences with labor leaders. Again in 1934 as labor delegate to Geneva conference. Powerful platform speaker, always armed with facts and a vivid way of presenting them, yet speaks in an almost agonizingly slow, philosophical, passionless manner. Lewis, who was always a Republican, has switched to Roosevelt. Refused increase in salary from $12,000 a year to $25,000.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Government Costs in Terms of Sweat, Blood, Tears

MORE than ever before the American people are learning that the science of economics has a direct and immediate bearing on daily living. In an earlier day the raising and spending of public money attracted little attention. It was too far removed, it was too indirect for the average man to bother about. The burdens were comparatively light. Tariffs and excises increase commodity prices, but the separate items were so small that they pass unheeded. When governmental expenditures ran into thousands or a few millions nobody cared.

It is true that taxes occasionally touched a tender spot and armed resistance developed. Such was the Whisky Rebellion of 1794, when the settlers of Western Pennsylvania rose in revolt against the new federal excise duty on liquor. And the earlier tea tax which the British government rashly tried to impose on the colonies. And the stamp tax which aroused Americans to such bitter protest. And even a hundred years earlier when Nathaniel Bacor raised the standard of revolt against Governor Berkeley in Virginia. From the very first, the tax collector in America was about as popular as a boil on the neck.

* * *

But resistance to taxation was usually based on the method employed. The amounts levied were too trifling to cause protest. Not that the colonists objected to the amounts raised by the stamp tax or the tea tax. But rather that the whole taxation scheme of the British government was illegal and contrary to the rights of Englishmen. Since America had no direct representation in parliament they contended that Britain could not lawfully lay taxes on them. Hence the protest and resistance, armed revolt and violence, eight years of war and national independence.

* * *

But in our day governmental costs and burdens have reached stupendous amounts. Not until 1890 did we reach a billion-dollar congress. Within another 20 years we were faced with billion-dollar sessions. The World war knocked out completely all such childish notions of millions and hundreds of millions. The congressional session of 1917 appropriated more money than all previous congresses combined, reaching the astounding total of more than sixteen billions. This meant about eight dollars a minute, day and night throughout the ages, since the birth of Christ.

* * *

When public costs mount to dizzy figures they almost never get back to normal. Such high levels become the normal state of things with the tendency to ever higher heights. When public services, real and imaginary, are once installed it is more than difficult to wean the people away from them. When things have been done for us we thoroughly object to doing them for ourselves. And there are always politicians at hand insisting on doing things for the people. Always, of course, with the people's money. And so, helplessness runs to further government as the cure-all and end-all of society's troubles.

FIRST PLOWED GROUND?

To the Editor: What piece of ground was the first to be cultivated in Orange county?

Within its boundaries much agricultural activity has taken place in the past 70 years, but I have often wondered where the first piece or plot of our now justly famous soil, was plowed, or spaded, into condition for seed to produce either vegetables or grain, is located.

Hardly believe our native Indians were much given to agricultural pursuits. This hardy race lived on acorns, roots and game, of which there must have been an abundance, and the tribes made regular semi-annual and annual trips to the coastline, where they got plenty of fish of all kinds and feasted too on abalones and mussels.

When Father Serra, his fellow missionaries and their small band of followers came to San Juan Capistrano towards the latter part of the eighteenth century they certainly did not care much for the Indian diet of ground acorns. They wanted vegetables and grain of some kind to make bread and undoubtedly brought seed with them to produce it.

By asking this question I hope I will at least get a response from some of our historians and there may be someone yet living in the county who will be able to tell us where this piece of soil is located.

I do know that earlier than 1880 only a small part of our now famous San Joaquin or Irvine rancho had ever been stirred with a plow. During the late seventies a few acres, not more than a hundred of them, was devoted to corn raising.

This plot of ground was located southeast of Tustin, below the 101 highway, in a sort of lowland and produced wonderful crops. The corn was hauled to the Newport landing, and was slid down a chute to the loading wharf.

In my opinion the first piece of Orange county soil to be spaded up was in the mouth of the Gubenadora canyon, six or seven miles up the San Juan canyon, above Capistrano.

There was an early-built adobe building there at one time. The ruins stood for years, but now the place has grown up to weeds.

The little plot of ground was nearby and water to irrigate it could be brought from a sluggish little stream in the Gubenadora.

For years there were marks and evidences of this early cultivation. One of the vegetables grown there must have been artichokes—the kind developed from thistles—for the last time I was in the canyon, which was about 10 years ago, rugged thistles were growing there and to my knowledge have been doing the same thing for the past 50 years. JOHN B. JOPLIN.

Skinny Skribbles

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

That's right. Tell me your troubles. I probably won't be able to do anything about it but I'll listen to you. So when Ed Brennan tells me that a man named Ed who runs a bathhouse at Newport didn't get his paper, I ask Ed what's his last name, and Ed says well, my name is Ed and so is his, but I don't remember the last name. So I says to Ed, well don't worry, let me do it for you. I'll turn the complaint in that a man named Ed who runs a bathhouse at Newport didn't get his paper Saturday night because there were so many other people at the beach who wanted to read it before Ed got it. At least that was some place to start from, and didn't I have to start from some place? Boy, if you followed me all day, every day, you woudn't know whether you were on your way or ever started.

There will be a lot of visiting Elks in this town tomorrow evening. They make up part of a good-will tour en route to the Los Angeles convention. The local lodge will do its part to welcome and entertain them. It won't harm the town's reputation any if you break down the formalities of courtesy and say, "Hello Bill," to the visiting brothers. When you are away from home it's mighty comforting to have someone converse with you. Try it. You can make a friend for Santa Ana.

My friend Fleetwood Bell is building back after an illness which has prevented him from the normal participation in business and civic affairs. Over a considerable number of years he contributed his influence and ability to the communities in which he has lived, and not to continue that activity is out of line with his energetic disposition. So he is doing a fine job of cooperating with the doctor and the nurse and the family to detour an illness which has kept him in the house for several months. His associates in the Consolidated Orange Growers association will welcome him at the directors meeting, of which he is a member, and his friends join in wishing him a quick recovery.
